JUDGE WILL NOT SCORE TWO PAPERS

Not Acting on Defence Protest at Currie Trial Against Toronto Dailies

Cobourg, Ont., April 25.—A protest by Frank Regan, defence counsel, against The Toronto Star of November 24 and The Toronto Globe of this morning featured the resumption here this forenoon of the trial of the suit for $50,000 damages for alleged libel brought by General Sir Arthur Currie against W. T. R. Preston and F. W. Wilson, publisher of The Port Hope Guide. Mr. Regan declared reports in those papers were unfair and he submitted action should be taken on them.

Mr. Justice Rose read the articles in the papers and informed counsel the procedure was to have a motion made for the persons responsible to show reason why they should not be punished. But as far as he was concerned he proposed to take no action himself.

Evidence to-day was given by Capt. C. White of the P.C.I.L. who out-

5,000 In Chinese City Are Killed By Bandits

Hankow, China, April 25.—Refugees reaching Hankow to-day told appalling stories of the sacking of Kingmen, a city of 600,000 inhabitants, about 140 miles northwest of here, by bandits who are stated to have slaughtered at least 5,000 men, women and children.

Kingmen is in Hupeh Province.

Farmers Ask Cabinet To Lift Rural Area From Saanich Control

Saanich farmers carried their fight for municipal disincorporation before the Government to-day with the declaration that they are unjustly taxed by the municipality and that they are threatened with even more serious injustice in the future.

After listening to the representations of a delegation of sixty farmers in favor of secession from Saanich, and warnings from Reeve Crouch to go slow in this move, Premier MacLean announced that the Government would give the whole Saanich situation the most careful study, adding that some form of adjustment in municipal affairs appeared essential.

"This question is exceedingly difficult and exceedingly involved," the Premier declared. "In asking for disincorporation of certain parts of Saanich you are raising a very serious question. I am not saying that this request should not be granted but I do say that once a system of government in a district is established one must consider very carefully before one changes it. You must make sure that your second condition will not be worse than your first. At the same time I am fully seized with the importance of the representations and of the difficulties which the rural people complain of."

The Premier said Government officials would check up all the facts laid before the Cabinet, and then the Government itself would consider them. After this had been done, more would be heard of the matter, he said, but emphasized that so large a question could not be settled in a few days.

The present troublesome condition in Saanich, the Premier said, could not go on permanently.

The Premier said adjustment along some lines, but what lines I am not prepared to say," he added.

The Premier's statement concluded a lengthy interview between the farmers and the Cabinet in the Executive Chamber of the Parliament Buildings. The farmers' case for disincorporation of Wards 5 and 6 and part of Ward 4 was presented by C. H. O'Halloran, their counsel, who laid an exhaustive brief on the subject before the Cabinet. It was argued that the farmers were being unfairly taxed and that the Government was not doing enough to protect them from the ravages of the bandits.

Whether the soldier was a Northerner or a Nationalist was not known. Taining is believed to have been captured by the Nationalists on either April 15 or 17.

The message telling of the flying came by courier to Tientsin, and was sent by Chinese telegraph.

Shanghai, April 25.—Dr. Walter F. Seymour, superintendent of the hospital of the United States Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions at Taining, in the southwestern part of Shantung Province, China, was shot to death by a Chinese soldier.

Dr. Seymour was shot through the heart on April 16. Because of interrupted communication in Shantung news reached here only yesterday. The interruption of communications is due to the present fighting between the Nationalists and Northern Chinese in Shantung province. Taining is about fifteen miles from Tanchow, being in the centre of the disturbed area.

CHARGES AGAINST EIGHT WITHDRAWN

Vancouver Magistrate Dismisses Accusations of Receiving Stolen Tires

Vancouver, April 25.—With the dismissal of the charge against W. J. Murdoch, local barkeeper, of receiving stolen tires, the property of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, similar charges against H. Brown, H. Weston, H. T. Harrington, T. Taylor, T. Howard, H. Wilson and E. O. Peters were withdrawn by Assistant Prosecutor Oscar Orr in the police court to-day.

In dismissing the Murdoch charge, Magistrate Shaw said:

"A charge of receiving and retaining stolen property is one of the hardest to prove. There is no doubt a crime was committed and a large number of tires stolen, but the question is whether the accused had any guilty knowledge. I am satisfied from the evidence that he had not and I therefore dismiss the case."

T. E. Tamburri, who pleaded guilty some days ago to receiving the stolen tires, was remanded until April 30 for sentence.

Ed Higgins, charged with the theft, had already been committed for trial at the higher court.

AUTO SPEED DRIVER LOSES LIFE IN CRASH

Frank Lockhart Killed on Famous Daytona Beach Course in Florida

Daytona Beach, Fla., April 25.—Frank Lockhart, noted automobile driver, was killed almost instantly here to-day when he lost control of his machine while racing along the beach at more than 200 miles an hour.

Lockhart had made three fast trips in his Stutz Black Hawk Special and was approaching the grandstand on the fourth when his car appeared to hit a soft spot in the sand. It turned end over several times, leaped high in the air and made several barrel rolls before landing. Lockhart was thrown out and fell profusely at the mouth and bleeding when spectators reached him. Physicians at the hospital where he was taken said he probably died a few minutes after being thrown from the car.

On his first run Lockhart had made 147 miles an hour. The return trip was made at a speed of 193 miles. Starting south on the beach again, the machine's time was 203.45 miles. On the final trip it was apparent he was making more than 200 miles when the machine went out of control about 500 yards south of the beginning of the mile stretch in front of the grandstand. The car was demolished.

The machine in which the famous speed king met his death was one in which he plunged into the ocean here in February last in attempting to set a world record during the annual speed trials here, when Malcolm Campbell, British driver, set the record of 206.956 miles an hour, which was broken last Sunday by Ray Keech, United States driver, who made 207.55 miles an hour.

Canadians Who Fought Tell Mons Story Again At the Currie Hearing

Jury in Cobourg, Ontario, Hears Vivid Descriptions of How Soldiers From This Country Entered Belgian
City Just Before Armistice Went Into Effect in 1918

Cobourg, April 25.—Nearly ten years after the event, to a judge and jury in the Ontario Supreme Court here, officers and men of the Canadian Corps yesterday recalled the story of Mons, the little Belgian city which was entered on the morning of November 11, 1918, by units of the 7th Canadian Infantry Brigade, several hours before the armistice which brought hostilities to a close on the Western Front became effective. Killed Highlanders of the 42nd Battalion, working their way warily through the empty streets, the tomb-like silence broken only by an occasional burst of machine gun fire in the distance, the pitchy blackness of the night intensified by the buildings on either side, the terror-stricken yet hopeful populace covering in their cellars, and those little groups of Canadians stealthily picking their path in the wake of the retiring enemy—all this was painted graphically but in simple language by the very men who, in the black hours of Armistice morning, delivered Mons from its four-years of thralldom.

MANY INCIDENTS RECALLED
There were men who testified at yesterday's session of the trial here of the suit for $50,000 damages for alleged libel brought by General Sir Arthur Currie, against W. T. R. Preston and F. W. Wilson, publisher of The Port Hope Guide.

Many incidents hitherto unknown in Canada's war history were revealed. BEAT OFF FIVE ATTACKS
It was told how a weak company, fifty men strong, of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, had beaten off five determined attacks by Germans in front of Cuesmes, a little village about a mile south of the city and how in one of these Corporal Carleton had met death. It was told how Major W. A. Graffey, M.C., with Lieutenant D. A. Handley and the men of No. 16 platoon of the Canadian Black Watch Battalion had entered Mons at 11 o'clock on the night of November 10, how the entire company of that battalion had been called to advance through the silent city shortly after midnight, and how the men had reached the Grande Place sometime later without a shot being fired.

That company had conducted its penetration of Mons from the east, but on a more company, that commanded by Major E. B. Pindley, M.C., had entered Mons from the south, had likewise passed through the city before its civilian inhabitants were aroused, and hours before the mystic order became effective the Highlanders had established their outpost line far to the east of Mons, where they rested on their honours.

NO FIGHTING IN CITY
All of the witnesses yesterday were unwavering in their testimony that there had been no fighting whatever in the city of Mons and that the men of the Forty-second Battalion had not fired a shot in the city. Nor could this testimony be shaken by the most rigid and grueling cross-examination levelled at them by Frank Regan, counsel for the defence.

No attack was delivered against Mons in the ordinary way accepted meeting in the world, witnesses declared, and the operations which resulted in the entry of the Canadian Corps into the city were totally different from anything that had hitherto been carried out. It was open warfare, with the

WAR DIARIES
An amusing incident occurred when Lieutenant A. Kelly characterized the battle history of the P.C.L.I. written by Lieutenant Hodder Williams, as "fiction."

War diaries were regarded by Infantry battalions as necessary evils. Col. Ewing told Mr. Regan during his cross-examination that the diaries were regarded by Infantry battalions as necessary evils. Col. Ewing told Mr. Regan during his cross-examination that the diaries were regarded by Infantry battalions as necessary evils.

MOVEMENTS DESCRIBED
Captain K. C. Burness, M.C., of the P.C.L.I., said he was around Mons in the last days of the war. He described the movements of No. 2 Company, which at 4 p.m. November 9, reached Cuesmes. He was then in touch with No. 1 Company of his battalion and continued his advance along the Cuesmes-Mons road.

RESISTANCE WAS MILD
On examination by W. N. Tilley, K.C., counsel for the plaintiff, the witness explained the resistance put up by the Germans in the latter days of the war was mild compared with the former years.

CORPORAL KILLED
On each occasion they were repulsed. The last assault was at midnight. Shortly after that hour Corporal Carleton was taking a relief to a Lewis gun post, and on the way the party was surprised by a group of Germans. In the ensuing fight, Carleton was shot and killed.

CROSSING OF LINE
The witness knew nothing of any order received at Argyle House about instructions to refrain from sending reinforcements. He had heard about the false armistice of November 8. He had not heard of the German envoys crossing the line for that purpose. Mr. Regan read the following army order: "Should an officer bearing a flag of

REPORT NOT HEARD
Cobourg, Ont., April 25.—Lieut. A. Kelly, a witness at yesterday's session of the trial here of the suit for $50,000 damages for alleged libel brought by General Sir Arthur Currie, against W. T. R. Preston and F. W. Wilson, publisher of The Port Hope Guide, was asked by Frank Regan, counsel for the defence, when he had heard Mons was going to be captured.

ADVANCE DESCRIBED
Lieut. Kelly, who was a scout and intelligence officer of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, had been telling of the advance of his battalion. He said that at noon on November 9, 1918, the P.C.L.I. entered the village of Cuesmes, and proceeded forward to Queennes, while a second company went northeast toward the canal, while the fourth company followed later along the Jemappes-Queennes road.

CIVILIZED WAR
Mr. Regan, quoting "It was not war in the civilized sense of the word." Do you agree with that? "I don't know what is 'civilized war'."

NEEDED REST
Mr. Kelly continued to describe the fatigue of the troops and the necessity for relieving the P.C.L.I. He assured Mr. Regan that, having chased the enemy from Thulin to Mons, the battalion was needed of some rest.

HISTORY DIFFICULTY
The witness said the extract from the battalion's history, "Never be possible to secure much military detail with regard to the advance toward Mons," was true.

MAJOR TESTIFIES
Major W. A. Graffey was commander of D Company, 42nd Battalion. He traced his battalion movements on the map.

BOMBS THROWN
At 1.15 witnesses heard what sounded like a minor engagement from the Grande Place to the east of Mons. Major Graffey went in toward Grande Place of Mons and came to the conclusion the city had been evacuated. This was reported to headquarters and the positions were issued. This required the platoon under Capt. Jack Stewart, to pass through the city and steer for Grande Place. W. C. Wade was a sergeant of C Company, 42nd Highlanders, during the war. When his platoon had established its post east of Mons, he received the armistice message from his company commander about 9 a.m. During his progress toward and through Mons there was no fighting and his own platoon had not fired a shot.
To Mr. Regan the witness said that as he was proceeding through Mons he heard some machine gun firing, but it was a long way off.
Counsel asked witness regarding the report of operations in 1918 written by General Sir Arthur Currie. This document had said a stubborn machine gun resistance had been met with prior to 4 a.m. Counsel asked if this was correct and the witness declared that with regard to the particulars about machine gun opposition it was not correct.

Private Kerr gave evidence on the death of Corp. Carleton, who had been killed "on the boulevard leading into Mons." He had gone into Mons on November 11, but had seen no leading.

BENNETT OF POLAR FLIGHT RENOWN DIES

Detroit, and had undertaken the flight against the advice of physicians. His wife and Commander Byrd, both of whom rushed here from New York when informed of Bennett's serious condition, were at his bedside when he died.

Efforts were made to save Bennett's life by local physicians and medical authorities from New York.

Yesterday a great flight, in an effort to save Floyd Bennett's life, was made by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh. Completing in four hours a flight of 500 miles, which carried him through snow and rainstorms, Col. Lindbergh landed at 6:50 on the Plains of Abraham, Quebec City, with anti-pneumonia serum brought from New York.

A bulletin issued at 1 a.m. to-day by Bennett's physicians said he was suffering from "Type 3," known as the most virulent type of lobes pneumonia. The bulletin added that "Unfortunately the serum brought from New York by Colonel Lindbergh does not cover it."

ANSWERED CALL

When the call for the serum was received in New York, Col. Lindbergh was asked if he would take it. Col. Lindbergh responded when told of the need. "Let's go."

And for the trip a United States plane was chosen that has a maximum speed of 150 miles an hour, a maximum that Lindbergh held the straining ship to during at least the first part of his journey.

WAY CLEARED

With a police escort clearing the way, Col. Lindbergh was driven at high speed to Curtiss Field, arriving ahead of Thomas Applegate, private secretary of John D. Rockefeller Jr., who had the serum, from the Rockefeller Institute, in charge.

Col. Lindbergh strode nervously up and down the field while the army observation plane was warmed up for him. Reporters and photographers clustered about the flying colonel, at first with dozens of questions, but he turned a frowning countenance on them and strode away.

DOWN THE WIND

When the plane was ready Col. Lindbergh hesitated only long enough to borrow an army .45 calibre pistol from an officer and strap it around his waist. Then he took his place in the pilot's seat and to the amazement of the on-lookers took off down wind instead of against it, taxiing to the other end of the field before taking off.

This manoeuvre seemed to observers almost to threaten to stop the race for life before it began, but Col. Lindbergh's skill was equal to all emergencies. Some 300 feet from the starting point the plane hit a bump, splashed through a patch of mud, jumped into the air and topped sharply to the right, one wing dragging close to the ground.

It seemed as though the plane must settle back to earth, probably ripping off a wing, but Col. Lindbergh held it up and a moment later he and his passenger were safely above the ground and climbing rapidly, headed for Quebec 500 miles away.

FLEW THROUGH RAINSTORMS

Most of the way to Quebec Col. Lindbergh flew the plane through snow over territory that was strange to him. One wing dragging close to the ground, not have distinguished landmarks en route.

lined the movement of his company from November 9, 1918, till the entry into Mons on the morning of November 11.

MAP DISCUSSED

Albert Kelly, who was the first witness yesterday, was recalled to-day by W. N. Tilley, K.C., counsel for Sir Arthur Currie against W. T. R. Preston and F. W. Wilson, publisher of The Port Hope Guide, Frank Regan, chief defence counsel, voiced the following protest:

"I want to call attention to something in the newspapers and I want to ask that some action be taken on it. I refer to The Star of November 24. I won't read it, but want your lordship to read it and then compare it out in the examination for discovery."

Mr. Justice Hugh E. Rose took the newspaper and read it, saying:

"I should not care to express an opinion as to whether in that there was or was not an error of what is permitted to the press. I don't at the moment feel clear that it has a tendency to induce one or another decision or affect the minds of the jury."

"As I said on Monday, I don't think it is for me to initiate proceedings except in respect of something occurring in court."

COMPARISON ASKED

Mr. Regan—I am prepared to let the matter rest if your lordship will say whether it is a fair article. You heard what took place in court and you have read the examination for discovery."

The judge—I am not prepared to say anything. These two questions were put before me and I came to the conclusion they were not relevant."

Mr. Regan—The one question deals with—

W. N. Tilley, K.C., counsel for Sir Arthur Currie, protested against further discussion of the matter.

The judge—I think it is taking up unnecessary time to discuss it further. I have said I am not prepared to initiate any action.

PREPARED TO ACT

Mr. Regan declared he was prepared to take action, but the judge said the mere fact of his mentioning it to the court did not mean action was initiated.

Mr. Regan—I want to draw your attention to an article in The Globe this morning, and a comment that is made upon it. I think it is about time that we should deal with these things. It is not fair and the trial should be conducted without comment.

The judge—I am hazy about the practice as to how such motions are made.

The matter rested there and the trial was continued.

APPEALING

In many cases, stated Mr. Strath, applicants before the board were appealing from a permit refusal in cases where buildings had been erected too close to the street line, and started before the location was approved by the city. A permit is required for every class of building construction, and must be taken out in advance of work being started, he stated.

B.C. NOT AFTER PLANE CONTROL

here, however, none of the provinces is anxious to take over control of aerial transportation, which is regarded as a Dominion matter, much like railway operations. In this the stand of the provinces is directly opposite to their attitude towards water power control, another question which will go before the Supreme Court as a reference this year.

AVIATION NOT FORESEEN

While not anxious to assume control of aviation themselves, the provinces appear in agreement on the desirability of settling permanently who shall exercise this control. The legal question at issue is rather vague, because, the British North America Act, Canada's constitution, says nothing whatever about aviation, which the Fathers of Confederation could not foresee. The argument before the Supreme Court will have virtually no precedent to guide it.

Quebec seem to be the only province which has raised any issue in regard to aviation control as between federal and provincial jurisdiction. It was an incident in Quebec which precipitated the present reference to the Supreme Court. The Quebec forestry service last year brought several French pilots into the province from France, as it desired men who could speak French and were expert aviators to handle aerial patrols. Federal officials, however, refused them permission to fly as they did not hold Canadian aviators' certificates. This immediately raised the question of jurisdiction over flying operations and the Dominion decided to refer the entire matter to the Supreme Court.

A NEW PRINCESS ARRIVES

STILL ANOTHER FINE VESSEL HAS been added to the fleet of coastwise ships operated by the British Columbia Coast Steamship Service in the arrival at this port today of the Princess Elaine. Early next month she will commence her sailings on the Vancouver-Nanaimo run in the place of the Princess Patricia. The new craft comes from the Clyde as have so many of her predecessors and her size and equipment represent a recognition on the part of the company of the increasing business on the route to which she is to be assigned.

One of the easiest ways to gauge the business which has developed for the British Columbia Coast Steamship Service is to recall the fact that it is only twenty-five years since the Princess Victoria, the first of the imposing fleet which now is operating in these waters, arrived on the coast and received an enthusiastic welcome. Since then many new ships have been added and the last word in comfort, speed, and accommodation appeared to have been reached in the Princess Kathleen and Princess Marguerite; but the Princess Elaine, although a considerably smaller vessel than the 1925 arrivals, reveals several new departures which give her the lead over all the craft of her class on this coast.

It is a tribute to the foresight of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, which always has shown good judgment in accepting the advice of Captain J. W. Troup, the manager of the B.C. Coast Service, that it should have gone out so energetically after the class of business which has made its vessels so popular with the traveling public. It now has been demonstrated—and it began to be obvious as soon as the Princess Victoria joined the service—that the amount of travel, particularly in the holiday months, is determined almost solely by the amount of accommodation available. Thus in providing for it the C.P.R. does a good stroke of business for itself and causes more money to be put in circulation in the ports which it serves as well as throughout the province generally.

BUY THE LOCAL ARTICLE

BUY VICTORIA-MADE GOODS HAS become a familiar phrase. How much respect it commands is not easy to determine. On the other hand it is certain that a much greater demand could be made for the local article than is being made at present. It is to be hoped that this year's Home Products Fair, which opened its doors yesterday, will have the effect of stimulating sales of goods produced in local establishments.

There has been assembled at the Armories an imposing array of commodities which explain Victoria's manufacturing resources in a manner that everybody can easily understand. The average consumer, even the most fastidious or prejudiced, surely will agree that these articles should be able to compete successfully with the imported varieties of their class. It is not unnatural, of course, for a certain section of the purchasing public to be rather more exacting than is really necessary or to be prejudiced in favor of the commodity whose principal appeal lies in its foreign origin. They may argue with themselves that there is no reason why they, for instance, should buy an article just because that article happens to be manufactured here, especially when for years they have grown accustomed to the same article produced, say, in Toronto or somewhere else. But if they would pause and try to understand that if a hundred consumers holding these views were to begin to demand the local product, they soon would realize that they were getting their usual value at the same price and at the same time contributing materially to a larger local payroll. It is that payroll which should interest them, for the greater the number of wage earners in any community, the greater the circulation of money. In other words, the consumers have it in their power to assist in creating prosperity and in lowering taxation; the short cut to relief of this kind is by the buy-Victoria-made-goods route.

Apart from the purely material factor, however, we should buy the local product out of a sense of community loyalty, even if in some instances we had to pay a little more. Industrial expansion and all the benefits that go with it can not be obtained by wishing. In our progress every citizen should be vitally interested. He and she should be prepared to do their part towards the advancement of their own community. Buy the local product wherever possible and you will make a good start. The rest will take care of itself.

MORE TEXTILE WAGE CUTS

APPROXIMATELY 25,000 employees in the textile works at New Bedford, Massachusetts, went on strike the other day in protest against a ten per cent wage reduction—the third of the same amount in the last two years. Twenty-six mills are involved and all efforts which the New Bedford Cotton Manufacturers' Association and the Textile Council to prevent a walk-out were unavailing.

Unemployment in the United States already is causing the Government a good deal of alarm. Recent estimates have put the number of idle persons at anywhere from five millions to six millions. But difficulty in the textile trade is not a new condition. This is one of the most highly protected industries in the United States and trouble began soon after the consumers went on a buying strike two or three years ago. The result was a considerable falling off in the demand for goods because of high prices. There followed the inevitable short time and wage cuts. The present walk-out is the answer of the employees to the third reduction.

In the case of the New Bedford mills, as in the case of the mills at Passaic, we have an example of protection failing to protect. There is a limit to the price the average consumer is able to pay for the goods he requires. When that limit has been exceeded he cuts down his purchases. He is not able to tell his employer that he must have an increase in salary in order that he may pay the additional cost of protected articles. He must use other means. This is the lesson of New Bedford and Passaic.

MORE CONSERVATIVE VOTES DROPPED

ALTHOUGH THE POLLING IN THE by-election in the Hanley division of Stoke-on-Trent on Monday has not changed the distribution of voting strength in the British House of Commons, Mr. Baldwin will get precious little comfort out of the result. It is a Labor stronghold and the Liberal Party did not even enter a candidate at the general election in 1924. On that occasion, however, the Laborite's majority over his Conservative opponent was only 1,554; but this he now has increased to no less than 8,532, the Liberal strength showing very little change since the contest of 1923.

In this result again will be noticed a very considerable decrease in the Conservative vote. What this has meant for the Government will be better understood when it is remembered that in the thirteen by-elections held since last May the Conservative Party has dropped something like 40,000 votes. Here are the details:

	Inc.	Dec.	Lab. Vote	Con. Vote
Riding	Inc. 2,225	Dec. 2,567	Dec. 2,499
Bowdler	Inc. 225	Dec. 665	Dec. 936
Westbury	Inc. 268	Dec. 1,178	Dec. 5,997
Bristol	Inc. 268	Dec. 1,178	Dec. 5,997
Southdown	Inc. 988	Dec. 1,638	Dec. 1,278
Canterbury	Inc. 3,114	Dec. 3,093
Northampton	Inc. 148	Dec. 127	Dec. 308
Lancaster	Inc. 3,604	Dec. 529	Dec. 2,383
Faversham	Dec. 1,319	Dec. 2,133	Dec. 345
W. Bristol	Dec. 4,996	Dec. 1,436	Dec. 6,004
Hford	Dec. 1,142	Dec. 462	Dec. 4,556
Stoke-on-Trent	Inc. 5,680	Dec. 323	Dec. 5,497
	Inc. 3,390	Dec. 1,609	Dec. 5,369

These figures credit the Conservatives with votes polled for independent, as well as regular, Conservative candidates; otherwise the total Conservative loss would be 3,101 heavier. The "increase" in the Liberal votes in West Bristol, Lintlithgow and in Stoke-on-Trent is in each case the total Liberal vote, as there was no Liberal candidate in either riding at the general election, and the same is true of the "increase" in the Labor vote in St. Ives. The West Middlebrough by-election is not included in the list, as there was not a contest at the general election; the Liberals retaining the seat in a contested by-election.

Mr. Baldwin, of course, still commands a very large majority in the House of Commons; but the action which the people are taking at the polls must be causing him a good deal of concern. In the meantime the Liberal Party seems to be gaining strength throughout the country, while Labor also is consolidating the positions it already holds.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE Y.M.C.A. IN JAPAN
From The Ottawa Citizen

"We have often heard of late of the need in Japan of more emphasis on social education, but there in the Tokyo Y.M.C.A. we have an organization with forty years of leadership and experience among the young men and boys of the city. As the welfare of our nation depends upon its youth, nothing is more pleasing to us than to have the physical and moral character of our young men uplifted and improved by the work of the Young Men's Christian Association. In this respect, the Y.M.C.A. because of its world-wide contacts, has great possibilities for rendering service."—Baron Sakatani, outstanding Japanese statesman.

CHANGING THE TARIFF TUNE
From The Toronto Star

Certain Canadian newspapers which have been shutting their eyes to Canada's prosperity and extolling the United States as the land of the sure job are at last admitting that all is not well with Uncle Sam. While employment in Canada continues at high level, one of the papers in question now intimates that "unemployment across the line is practically as great as in the United Kingdom."

Its custom has been to picture Canada as the land of the unemployed due to the King tariff, and the United States as the land of steady employment due to a high tariff. It is amusing to see how quickly the tariff argument is pigeon-holed now that the reverse is proven true—Canada prospering under the King tariff, the United States troubled with unemployment under its high tariff. Seeking an explanation, the paper in question now asks: "Are the factories of the world too prolific? Are the shelves of the world overstocked with goods?"

These are suggestions which were certainly never put forward when unemployment was imputed to Canada.

POLICE INQUIRY NEXT WEEK IN TERMINAL CITY

Charles Woodward, M.P.P.,
Critiques Chief of Vancouver Force

Vancouver, April 25.—The first sitting of the commission which is to investigate the Vancouver city police department probably will be held next Monday, according to R. S. Lennie, special commissioner appointed by the City Council.

C. WOODWARD'S VIEWS
"What Vancouver needs is a chief of police who knows his job and is strong enough to resist domination from any and all sources," Charles Woodward, M.P.P., declared yesterday. "Nobody knows better than Mayor Taylor that Chief H. W. Long is not the man to head the police force of the city. The mayor told me about three years ago that Long had not had a chance to make good, but that he was going to have a chance," said Mr. Woodward.

TIME ENOUGH
"I have always said Long was the wrong man for the job. He has certainly had time enough to show what he could do. He may be a nice enough fellow, but he has not succeeded as chief."

What Mayor Taylor's purpose may be in keeping him in his position I do not know, but there should have been a change long ago," he added.

MUST OBSERVE MINING RULES

Operators Warned They Must Obey Regulations to Ensure Safety

Warnings were issued by the Mines Department here to mining operators to observe regulations which will be strictly enforced by provincial officials this year in the interests of safety.

In mining operations under ground powder must only be handled by experienced men, who hold blasting certificates. It was stated.

On every mining property where more than twelve men are regularly employed the operators must inform provincial Mines Department officials that they are working. This rule is being enforced so that the department may inspect all mining operations of any extent in the Province. Notice must be given to the Provincial Inspector of Mines or to the inspector in the district where operations are carried on.

Regulations regarding the storing of powder also must be observed strictly, officials said.

This warning was issued in view of the large number of small mining operations that will be carried on all over the Province this year to test out and open up new mineral properties.

TWO YEARS FOR CARRYING GUN

Dangerous Practice Must Be Discouraged Says Magistrate

Convicted on a charge of having an offensive weapon in his possession, a 38 calibre revolver, Harry Watson was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary by Magistrate Jay in the City Police Court this morning. Watson was arrested this morning on Johnson Street at 7 o'clock by Sergeant James Florence and Constable Arthur Bishop.

In passing sentence Magistrate Jay remarked: "This is a very dangerous practice and must be discouraged."

Evidence was given by—Patrick Roach, a waiter of the club that Watson visited, the Britannia branch of the B.E.S.L., about 10.30 o'clock last night and asked for a bottle of beer. Witness told him that he could not get the beer. The accused hung around until closing time and after all the other members had departed he pulled a revolver out of his pocket and said to Roach, "I'll shoot you," witness testified.

Sergeant Florence said in company with Constable Bishop he found Watson was staying at the 7 Royal Hotel. Proceeding there they gained entrance to his room and found lying on the bed a box of 38 calibre revolver cartridges. Several of the bullets had been removed from the box. Watson, however, was not in his room.

Proceeding to the street again the police officers noticed Watson walking up the other side of the street, and he was taken into custody and lodged in Bandmaster Finn is making arrangements for strengthening the Fifth Regiment Band by the acquisition of several new musicians.

Following the flagship, which arrived a week ago, and which passed her coming out of the port of Acapulco last month, the cruiser Shearwater returned to Esquimalt last evening from an extended cruise in southern waters.

Sir Frederick Carrington, at the Dr. Dr. The distinguished soldier, accompanied by Lady Carrington, arrived on the Empress of China yesterday afternoon after a pleasure tour of the East.

An important meeting of the management committee of the James Bay Athletic Association was held last evening, there being a fair attendance.

Four big Chinese liners in port in one day, the shipping record of yesterday, has made the Outer Wharf a centre of attraction during the last twenty-four hours.

What Vancouver needs is a chief of police who knows his job and is strong enough to resist domination from any and all sources," Charles Woodward, M.P.P., declared yesterday.

"Nobody knows better than Mayor Taylor that Chief H. W. Long is not the man to head the police force of the city. The mayor told me about three years ago that Long had not had a chance to make good, but that he was going to have a chance," said Mr. Woodward.

"I have always said Long was the wrong man for the job. He has certainly had time enough to show what he could do. He may be a nice enough fellow, but he has not succeeded as chief."

The Extra Stamina You Need for Spring Driving

Equipping with Gum-Dipped Tires is an investment in extra safety, speed, comfort and economy. That is why thousands of motorists throughout the country use these tires.

On wet, slippery streets and highways—around sharp turns—maneuvering in and out of traffic—stopping suddenly—you can always depend on the powerful Firestone non-skid tread to hold without slip or skid.

Supporting this safety tread is the special Gum-Dipped carcass, built of cords dipped in a rubber solution which saturates and insulates every fibre of every cord with rubber. This minimizes the friction and heat of high speed service, and strengthens the whole structure of the tire to withstand heavy strains.

No one can foresee the demand you may have to place on your tire equipment in some emergency. But you can prepare now—and be sure of a fighting chance in any situation—by having the nearest Firestone Service Dealer apply new Gum-Dipped Tires all around. He will save you money and serve you better.

BIG DISPLAYS FEATURE SHOW

Broughton Street Depot Will Present Galaxy of Color
Friday

With no less than eighteen large display entries for the Vancouver Island Horticultural Association's second annual Spring flower show, which opens at the Broughton Street stage depot 2 p.m. on Friday, and individual entries pouring in to P. R. Leighton, secretary, from all parts of Vancouver Island, this year's exhibition gives promise of being one of the most successful held in Victoria for a great number of years.

One of the outstanding attractions at the show will be the displays from private gardens in the non-competitive class. In this section of the show will be entries from the Empress Hotel, R. P. Butcher's garden, P. B. Pemberton and Comte de Suzane. An unusually large display is being sent over by the Vancouver Spring flower show committee.

The competitive garden section has also attracted some important entries. Considerable space has been set aside for entries sent in by Hon. Walter G. Nichol, Sir Frank Bernard, Mrs. C. F. Armstrong, D. J. Angus, W. F. Salisbury, E. W. Darcus and R. M. Palmer.

For weeks Up-Island horticulturists have been preparing for the exhibition. Large displays are being sent down from Alberni, Duncan and North Saanich, while the Victoria Horticultural Association is also contributing to the show. The Langford Women's Institute and the Royal Oak Women's Institute have taken considerable space for display entries in the Women's Institute display section.

There are 15,000 square feet of floor space in the auditorium on the second floor of the Broughton Street depot, and judging from the number of individual entries that are pouring in from all points the hall should present a galaxy of color, the like of which has not been seen in Victoria for some time. The show committee is pleased with the interest which is being taken in the show this year not only by horticulturists but by the general public.

The show will be officially opened at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon by His Honor Lieut.-Governor Robert Randolph Bruce. The public will be admitted at 2:30 o'clock. Saturday morning children will be admitted between 9 o'clock and noon at a nominal fee, and in the afternoon Their Excellencies Lord and Lady Willingdon, will present the twenty-one challenge cups and trophies to the various prize winners.

Those familiar with preceding flower shows state that this year's exhibition will surpass any that they have seen in Victoria.

Humphrey Baynes, a well-known resident of Alberni Head for a number of years, passed away Tuesday afternoon in hospital at Port Alberni, aged forty-five years.

The late Mr. Baynes was the youngest son of Fred Baynes, D.L., and Mrs. Baynes of Sanmurray Hall, Blackburn, England, and came out to Canada many years ago. He resided for a time in Kamloops before coming to his city, and on the outbreak of hostilities left for England and served with the Imperial Flying Corps during the war. He is survived by his widow and one son, residing at Oak Bay, one brother, Major Geoffrey Baynes and two sisters in England.

The remains will be brought from Port Alberni for interment, and funeral arrangements will be announced later by the B.C. Funeral Company.

The senior leaders have also perfected a very dazzling display of acrobatic work, on four pieces of apparatus. The costuming in this event is worthy of mention, as each individual wears a beautiful silk blouse of different colors, and the group creates rainbow effects with their intricate movements.

The clowns are busy rehearsing new gags and promise everyone a hilarious evening at their expense.

Fourteen big acts, engaged in which are 180 performers, constitute the company who perform in the big tent.

IF YOU ARE "FACE CONSCIOUS" TRY WILLIAMS

TO-NIGHT'S
the NIGHT

When there's a real party ahead of you, take out a policy of enjoyment insurance. Have a Williams shave before you start out. The rest of the evening will take care of itself.

EVERYONE
but YOU should know that you have shaved

WHEN your supper guests greet you with "My! How well you're looking to-night" — they know you have shaved.

But, there should be never a twitch or a twinge—nor even an afterglow to remind you that you have used a razor. If you are "face conscious" after shaving, it's time to learn to shave the Williams way.

First, prepare the face with the thick creamy lather from Williams Shaving Cream — that, for a quick, easy shave — with no impurities to irritate the skin. Then conserve the natural moisture of the skin with Aqua Velva. A few drops after shaving keep the skin flexible and smooth all day, just as Williams Shaving Cream leaves it.

Williams is now nearly a century old. Barbers who must know shaving soap—85 out of every 100 of them—use Williams lather.

Lester Patrick Lost Six Pounds In Forty Minutes Goal-keeping

Leader of New York Rangers Given Great Send-off on Leaving Metropolis; Put Name of Victoria in Headlines; Will Play Golf Here to Recuperate From Strain of Strenuous Campaign

While doing a good job managing and coaching the New York Rangers in their fight to the world's championship Lester Patrick never wasted a chance to put in a good word for his home town, Victoria, and as a result the Capital City received much favorable publicity in the big daily papers of the East.

Lester was expected to return to Victoria to-day to receive a hearty welcome from his own folks as well as hearty congratulations from the general public.

Lester has been the subject of more publicity in the last few weeks than most leading athletes receive in a lifetime. The sport writers of the big New York papers have been writing columns about the veteran manager and seem to have been in a scramble to see which could hand him the best bouquet.

LOST WEIGHT FAST

In one article a New York writer makes the interesting disclosure that Lester lost six pounds in weight in the forty minutes he played in goal for the Rangers in the second game of the world's series. That would prove a new avenue of exercise for those who are anxious to reduce rapidly.

The following tribute to Lester is from the columns of The New York Evening Post of April 24, and in it the leader of the Rangers does not forget to drop in a word for Victoria.

"New York is minus one of its most picturesque sports figures to-day, for Lester Patrick, coach of the New York Rangers, has gone back to his home in Victoria, British Columbia, for a well-earned rest. He left last night.

"The grand old man of hockey certainly is one of the best of us. Lester Patrick is a man who has been in the game for thirty years, but this past 1927-28 campaign probably was more wearing on his team than any other season. He has added more grey hair to his silvery locks than any other season.

"A tired expression and a worn look around the eyes saddened Lester's usually bright, smiling countenance yesterday. A slight cold and a touch of laryngitis were bothering him. The preparations for leaving, the bidding farewell to a host of friends in Madison Square Garden added further to his discomfort. While the thoughts of home were pleasant, Patrick certainly showed his sorrow at breaking away from his local ties.

A GOLF ADDICT

"Once back in Victoria, Lester will forget all about hockey for the summer. It will be golf, golf, golf, morning, noon and night, for Patrick is afflicted with a bad case of linksitis.

"When I'm not golfing, I'll go fishing and motoring. To keep my brother Frank, and my father to look after our business interests on the Coast. But there won't be much of that, added Lester.

"While he has not signed a new contract—his old one expired this season—Lester Patrick expects to return as the guiding genius of the world's champions again next fall. He likes New York and there is no denying the hold which this capable, inspiring coach has gained on the affection of his players and employers.

"Rumors have been spread abroad the circuit that Lester and his brother were trying to secure a franchise for Cleveland and operate a team in that city as a member of the N.H.L. However, it is generally understood that Patrick's interests are closely affiliated with New York and the Rangers. It is violating no confidences to predict that there will be no salary disputes between him and Col. John B. Hammond and that Patrick will be back at Madison Square Garden for the third successive season next November.

"Right now as he journeys westward, Lester is thinking about resting and nothing else.

NEEDS REAL REST

"The recent 1927-28 hockey season which found the New York Rangers winning the Stanley Cup in their second year as a member of the National Hockey League was a severe strain for the popular mentor of the Blue Shirts.

"First came the worry about actually attaining a play-off position.

"When that problem was passed, Patrick found himself facing the troubles and worries attached to ensuring safety by the series with the Pittsburgh Pirates and then the even more difficult task of beating the Boston Bruins in the second elimination series.

"Hardly anyone gave the Rangers a chance of performing that feat, but they did by a 5-2 margin. Then into the world series for the Stanley Cup, a series which went the full five games and caused fluttering hearts and shaky nerves among the entire New York party of players, writers and roots in the second period and Lester himself played goal for close to forty minutes. He lost something like six pounds during that time, perspiring profusely from the weight of his heavy equipment."

Hoppe Gains Lead Over Johnny Layton

Chicago, April 25.—Willie Hoppe, veteran 12.3 ball line-batted player, last night again took the leadership in his three-cushion exhibition match with Champion Johnny Layton, when he won the fourth block 55 to 39 in fifty-three innings. Layton had taken the lead by winning the afternoon match 55 to 45.

Hoppe now leads Layton 200 to 180 in the 225 innings play.

TENDER LESTER DINNER TUESDAY

Arrangements have been completed by the Sons of Canada for the complimentary banquet to be tendered Lester Patrick, manager of the New York Rangers, world's professional hockey champions.

The banquet will be held at the Dominion Hotel on Tuesday, May 1. Leading lights in the Sons of Canada were so enthused over the remarkable showing made by Lester in the world's series this year and on the vast impression, the sterling display of courage and resource made by the Rangers' leader on the youth of Canada, that they decided to tender the banquet to Lester.

A splendid programme of toasts and entertainment has been arranged. Tickets for the banquet are limited and may be obtained from Geo. Straith Limited, Ivel's Pharmacy or any members of the Sons of Canada.

Newsboy Brown Scores Knockout

Los Angeles, April 25.—Newsboy Brown of New York, recognized in California as the flyweight boxing champion, scored a surprise six-round technical knockout victory over Speedy Dado, Filipino, here last night. The bout was scheduled to go ten rounds.

Hudkins Moves Up To Middleweights

New York, April 25.—The welterweight division has lost Ace Hudkins, the Nebraska boxer, for the time being at least. His manager yesterday officially notified the New York state athletic commission that Hudkins had joined the middleweight division in order to meet Mickey Walker in Chicago, June 21, for the title.

Lacrosse Entry Date Is Extended

In an attempt to obtain a fourth club for the senior league the Victoria and District Lacrosse League at a meeting held last night at the Y.M.C.A. decided to extend the closing date for entries until Tuesday, May 1.

Three teams, Sons of Canada, Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Company and Sidney have decided to compete this season, and it is hoped that Esquimalt will make the fourth club.

DEMPSEY AFRAID TO FIGHT IN N.Y.

Rickard Says Former Champion Could Have Had "Absolute Protection"

Some of Inside Workings of Promoting Big Fight Related in Court

New York, April 25.—Jack Dempsey could have picked the judges and referee himself to ensure "absolute protection" if he had been willing to fight Gene Tunney in New York for the heavyweight title in 1926, Tex Rickard, grand mogul of fistie promotion, said yesterday on the witness stand as the suit of Jack Kearns against the former champion for more than $500,000 neared its close in United States district court.

In one message in particular, Rickard poured out his heart to Dempsey, who feared he would be "jobbed" in New York, Tunney's home state.

HOW THESE BOYS TALK

"The best I can do on Tunney," Rickard wired Dempsey in Los Angeles on March 29, 1926, "is a guarantee of $450,000 with privilege of forty-five per cent of the gate receipts. The show would draw more in New York at the Yankee Stadium or a place to be built by me than in Jersey. You would have no trouble choosing your own referee and judges in New York to insure you against any favoritism. You must come to a decision right away as it takes six months to work up a big fight."

Dempsey sent Rickard the following reply: "Must have fifty per cent of everything with privilege of four-fifty guarantee. Understand, Tex, you must guarantee me full protection with everything as you have stated in your wires. Must have my end of guarantee before the fight, also advance of $50,000."

Temperamental Runners—By Jimmy Thompson

With Summer approaching the condition of athletes who will represent Canada at the ninth Olympiad in Amsterdam this July, is being closely watched. The marathons in particular are as usual the subject of careful scrutiny. Consider Johnny Miles, the Nova Scotian, who annexed fame by winning the Boston marathon two years ago. Last Spring in the same race, he felt blistered and he dropped out. Again in Toronto, a few weeks ago, he competed in a fifteen-mile run, and was well forward toward the finish when a stitch in the side forced him to his haunches, and while he sat on the grass the whole field swept past. Accidents will happen, especially in marathons. Therefore, don't put Miles down as a "has been." Hot weather is reputedly his worst enemy. But given cool and cloudy skies at Amsterdam watch for him among the leaders at the finishing tape. Another marathoner who is under observation is Billy Reynolds of Galt. Reynolds won the Good Friday marathon in Toronto recently and there is some suggestion of adding him to the Olympic team.

Joe Hauser, With Four Home Runs, Leads Big League Socking Squad

First Baseman of Philadelphia Athletics Smacks Out Pair of Circuit-Wallops; Ruth Also Gets a Pair, But Is One Behind Hauser in Grand Total; Blake Scores His Third Win for Chicago Cubs; Alexander Breezes Along

The siege gun of the New York Yankees' dread attack has found the range. That long-distance artilleryman, Babe Ruth, propelled two balls into the Yankee Stadium bleachers yesterday as the champions beat Washington 4-0.

Those two drives—both into Ruth's favorite target, the right field stands, gave the Bambino his second and third home runs of the season and put him three games ahead of the schedule he followed last year when he hit sixty circuit drives to establish a new record for himself and others to shoot at.

Home again, the Philadelphia Athletics romped away with an 11-6 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Joe Hauser hit two homers, each time with Speaker on base. Hauser is leading both leagues with four homers.

WON IN TENTH

The Chicago White Sox went ten innings to score over Detroit, 5-4. Falk's sacrifice scored Metzler with the winning run.

Jess Petty, the Brooklyn Dodgers' crack left-hander, registered his first triumph of the season when the Robins buried the Philadelphia Nationals under a 12-7 count at Ebbetts Field. Petty fanned eight men. Philadelphia collected four runs in the ninth on five hits. Harvey Hendrick with two triples and a single and four runs batted in, led the Brooklyn attack.

The Chicago Cubs vanquished Pittsburgh 7-2 at Wrigley Field, Sheriff Blake recording his third victory of the year. The Cubs now have a two-to-one edge on the series. Blake was not scored on till the eighth. Previous to that he had gone seventeen consecutive innings without allowing a run.

ALEXANDER TOO GOOD

With Alexander pitching, the St. Louis Cardinals had no difficulty overcoming the Reds at Cincinnati, 7-2. Alexander pitched shutout ball for seven innings, but eased up at the close, when the Cards had piled up a big lead.

The Giants and Braves again were rained out at Boston.

Yesterday's results were:

OPPORTUNITY COUNTS SAME AS ABILITY

Two Incidents in Baseball Last Year Give Players Chance to Show Class

Detroit's Infield Made Over on Act of Discipline; Speaker's Successor

By BILLY EVANS Ability is one thing, opportunity another, when it comes to making good as a major league ball player.

The records of the big leagues are filled with unusual cases where some particular unexpected happening has given a player his chance to make good, whereas his ability otherwise might have been kept in the background for several years.

In the major leagues there is no greater young second baseman than Henry Gehring of the Detroit Tigers. The role of regular has been assigned to him this year and Detroit fans are assured of some high-class work, both in the infield and at the bat.

McMANUS BENCHED

A year ago at this time Marty McManus was regarded as a cinch bet for second base on the Tigers. During the Winter George Moriarty, manager of the Tigers, had made a deal for McManus with the St. Louis Browns with the thought that his club would have an experienced second baseman.

Difference of opinion occurs in baseball as in all other things and such a thing caused Moriarty early last Spring to bench the clever McManus, simply as a matter of discipline. Gehring was sent to second, but I am sure Moriarty at the time felt the change would be only temporary and the fruit, McManus would be back at second.

Getting the big opportunity, Gehring made the most of it. His play in the field and at the bat was so very excellent—that it was impossible to get him out of the line-up. Then several other things developed that relieved the rather embarrassing situation for Manager Moriarty.

An injury to Jackie Tavener caused Moriarty to use McManus at short, where he played brilliantly. Later he was used at third and performed in great style at the difficult corner, no player in the American League showing more ability.

REFORMS LINE-UP

This Spring Manager Moriarty, in working out his line-up, remembered the time manager in which McManus performed at third and sent him to that position. He soon outdistanced all rivals for the berth.

When Detroit opened the season this year, Gehring was at second and McManus at third. No team in the American League offers superior players at those two positions.

A difference of opinion between manager and player, at first regarded as an unfortunate happening, has worked out perfectly and developed outstanding players at second and third for the Tigers in Gehring and McManus.

ANOTHER OPPORTUNIST

Eddie Morgan, picked to star in centre field for Cleveland this year, had a somewhat similar experience. Joining New Orleans a year ago direct from Tulane University, no one figured on him as a regular.

Then one of the veterans suffered an injury. It was necessary to press Morgan into service. He stayed in the line-up, batted better than 350, and was the outstanding star of the Southern League.

One year has passed and he now is a member of the Cleveland Indians, assigned to fill the shoes of Tris Speaker, for no player has played that position competently since the Gray Eagle passed on to Washington.

Ability is one thing and opportunity another. Both are quite essential to success in baseball.

Ty Cobb, going hitless as his team rallied against the Boston Red Sox, surrendered the "Big Six" leadership to Rogers Hornsby, who remained idle because of rain in Boston. Cobb drove in a run with a sacrifice fly, but his average dropped to .357, six points below Hornsby's mark.

Babe Ruth furnished the real feature of the "Big Six" yesterday with his two home runs against Horace Lienesch, of Washington. The Babe climbed to fourth place, but his average remained well below .300.

New York, April 26.—Urban Shocker, right-handed pitching star, who "retired from the game" in February, came to terms with the Yankees yesterday, officials of the club announced. It is understood in baseball circles that Shocker signed a one-year contract for $12,000.

United States Open Golf Champion Gained His Fame Before Leaving Old Country as Amateur Golfer;

Jim Barnes, on Seventh Invasion of Native Land, Has a Chance If He Can Couple

Enough of His Sensational Rounds; Sarazen Seeks Revenge, While Hagen Just Wants Another Victory

New York, April 25.—The British open golf championship trophy, which has been won by a player from the United States in six of the last seven years, is in danger of again crossing the Atlantic ocean from east to west. The trophy at the moment is in the clubhouse of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club at St. Andrews, where Bobby Jones left it last year when he won for the second time in two years.

In the six American victories two native-born Americans and two adopted sons have won for the United States. Jones and Walter Hagen won it twice for the glory of the homebreds, while Jim Barnes and Jock Hutchison, British-born, were the others.

Bobby Jones will not seek to make it three in a row, but some of his hard-hitting professional friends will try their best to take up where he left off.

PRO GAME WILL BE CARRIED ON

Hagen would like to be "the champion," as the British call the winner of their open, again. "The Hags" is on his way to shoot for the title for the sixth time.

Barnes, who won in 1925, is about to enter his seventh British open competition. "Long Jim" is not the menace he was, but he is playing in the "sprig golf." The question is whether he can connect enough of his sensational rounds to make them effective.

Tommy Armour, who did his last playing on an ambitious scale in Great Britain as an amateur, returns to the classic with the prestige won in the United States open. The champion will play in the blue ribbon British event for the first time although he won the French amateur championship before he left his native Scotland for the United States and golf fame and fortune.

Peter Gavuzzi, Southampton, Eng., is thirty-six minutes behind Payne, with John Salo of Passaic, N.J., third with 3:45:43.1.

Phil Granville, Hamilton, Ont., walker, is fourth in 3:50:55.42 and Johnny Cronick, Saskatoon, tenth with 3:52:37.06.

Lakesides Take Exhibition Game

Edmonton, April 25.—In an exhibition game here last night the Toronto Lakesides played against the Gradenettes and the Grads, and won, out by the narrowest of margins, the score being Toronto 31, Edmonton 30.

The Gradenettes, local intermediate team, played the first half against the visitors and were out the short end 24-18, and then the champion Grads went on in an endeavor to make up the deficit.

DISLIKES REPORT To the Sports Editor:—Kindly allow me to correct your report of the findings of the special commission on boxing and of the B.C.A.A.U. held Saturday evening in Vancouver.

The report of such findings in the Vancouver papers of the following morning and of The Sunday Colonist was absolutely correct and certainly was not a whitewash.

No charges were made against the Tillikum Club. Arthur Spruston and F. Sinnott were given time to take special affidavits.

Petrie of Vancouver was saved by his youth; he being too young to come under the jurisdiction of the board. Clarence Leska's youth exonerated him.

Danny Pastoro's age prevented more drastic treatment. Boxers from the United States and places outside British Columbia must present their amateur cards and official permits before entering competition.

Boxers receiving expense money must file list of expenses and receipts for same with their local boards. No local board or club can afford to ignore this proviso, and I am confident if this is looked after properly we will have eliminated, to a very great extent, this vexed problem.

These two last provisions are great gains and will assist materially in keeping the game clean. Personally, after consulting authorities on the mainland, I am convinced that a "Boxing Commission," composed of independent, fearless men of well-known probity, is the only way that this question can be handled properly and in the best interests of all concerned.

Los Angeles, April 25.—United States secret service agents yesterday raided a house near South Pasadena, a suburb of Los Angeles, seized a complete engraving and printing plant that is believed by them to have been the nucleus of a counterfeiting ring which has virtually flooded the Pacific Coast with spurious $20 bills and arrested three men, who gave their names as A. J. W. Ross, fifty-eight, who said he had been a photographer and engraver for twenty years; John Holz, thirty-eight, and Arthur Houchins, forty. SNEED JOLLEY

With the sale of Chalmers Cissell to the Chicago White Sox for $123,000 and Larry and Reese to the New York Yankees for $125,000, all the fine talent in the Pacific Coast League has not been marketed. Sneed Jolley, star outfielder for the San Francisco Seals, and the champion batter of 1927, is now attracting the attention of several big buyers. Umpire Hildebrand of the American League, says he is the most natural young hitter he ever saw and a finished fielder. The Seals will want plenty of dough for him.

WHAT IS A Convenience Outlet?

THAT little plate let into the floor or baseboard is called a "convenience outlet"—a convenient outlet for the electric current that awaits to serve you.

Convenience outlets do away with unsightly cords. And when you attach your vacuum cleaner, iron or toaster, there's no climbing on a chair or awkward cords stretching across the room.

There should be at least one convenience outlet to a room (if you're building, for more). They can be installed at reasonable cost in your present house or apartment.

VICTORIA ELECTRICAL ASSOCIATION

CHAMPIONSHIPS AT ROYAL CITY

Provincial Boxing and Wrestling Titles to Be Decided May 10 and 11

New Westminster, B.C., April 25.—For the fourth year in succession the New Westminster Amateur Athletic Association has been honored with the privilege of staging boxing and wrestling championships, one Dominion and three provincial. The British Columbia championships are to be staged in the Royal City on Thursday and Friday, May 10 and 11 and indications point to the largest gathering in years.

The entire net proceeds will be turned over to the British Columbia Olympic Lacrosse Fund for the purpose of financing a Coast lacrosse team to the Olympic games at Amsterdam. GREAT PREPARATIONS

Victoria, Nanaimo, Duncan, Vancouver, Powell River, Britannia Mines, Chilliwack, Mission and New Westminster are already preparing to enter candidates seeking the gold and silver medals which the Athletic Association will donate as prizes.

Entry forms are being sent out to all the known athletic organizations throughout the Province and can be obtained on request from Secretary V. B. Jones, New Westminster, B.C.

Special ticketing arrangements are being made by a committee for the convenience of those coming from a distance. The Queen's Park arena is eminently fitted for the staging of the championships.

It is impossible, it seems, to evolve a theory of the golf swing which will please everyone. One person tells us we must do so and so, and another says we must do something entirely different. In the end there can exist in our minds nothing but confusion as to what course we must pursue.

It is quite human, of course, to consider that the method which has been found through years of experience to be best for us, must be best for those whom we seek to instruct. But how impossible it is to prescribe each and every movement throughout the stroke. If one could start with the wagger and go through the entire swing precisely in the manner of Walter Hagen or of Johnny Farrell, he would, of course, hit the ball like Walter Hagen or Johnny Farrell. But if he should swing his arms like Farrell and shift his weight like Hagen, he probably would not play at all.

The reason that golf is such a difficult game to teach, is that it is a co-ordination of many moving forces, and when an instructor begins to fashion the style of his pupil upon his own method, in order to attain success, he must make over his pupil's swing from beginning to end.

No two really expert golfers look the same when hitting a golf ball, although there may be little difference in their skill or the result obtained. The golf swing is entirely a matter of compensation—making up in one part for what is done in another part. That is the reason that we observe so very different ways of doing the same thing. The primary objective, of course, is to bring the club on to the ball while the face is straight to the hole. If one player hoods his club in the backswing, he must open it again coming down; and similarly, if he opens it going back, he must shut it again before he reaches the ball.

Take Jess Sweetser as an example of the first. I make bold to say that no more accurate iron player ever lived. Jess appeared to take his club back mainly with his shoulders, with little turning of the wrists. It is this economy of wrist action which keeps the blade from turning away from the lock, for the crew's supply, will hold an additional 12,000 pounds. Any wonder that the engineer should remark to the steward, "Man, but you have a grand potato locker!"

But the potato locker is not the only room in her storage space that expresses size. She has an ice cream room twenty-four feet long by fifteen feet wide by nine feet high, that would hold, if filled, no less than sixteen tons of ice cream-bricks. While most of the ice cream consumed on a voyage comes from ashore, the ship has facilities in reserve for freezing a regular daily supply of 140 quarts. Consumption of ice cream is unusually heavy, as the vessel steams for more than ten days on each voyage through sub-tropical waters, and ice cream is served to all on deck with other refreshments.

The "CANARY" MURDER CASE

By R. S. VAN DINE

Author of "The Benson Murder Case"

"A pair of 'em was there? That's your theory, is it, Mr. Vance? You said that once before, and I'm not saying you're wrong. But if we can hang any part of it on Skeel, we'll make him come across as to who his pal was."

"It wasn't a pal, Sergeant," said Vance. "It was more likely a stranger."

CHAPTER XXXV

Markham sat glowering into space. "I don't at all like the Cleaver end of this affair," he said. "There's been something damned wrong about him ever since Monday."

"And I say," put in Vance, "doesn't the gentleman's false alibi take on a certain shady significance now, what?"

"Markham rang for Swacker. I rather fancied that if you could get Mannix to pour out his heart to you, you'd be in a stronger position to draw a few admissions from Cleaver. And behold! Again the triumph of intuition! With what you now know about him, you can whittle him most unconscionably—eh, what?"

"And that's precisely what I'm going to do," Markham rang for Swacker. "Get hold of Charles Cleaver," he ordered, irritably. "Phone him at the Stuyvesant Club and also his home—he lives round the corner from the club in West 27th Street. And tell him I want him to be here in half an hour, or I'll send a couple of detectives to bring him in—handcuffed."

For five minutes Markham stood before the window, smoking absently, while Vance, with a smile of amusement, busied himself with The Wall Street Journal. Heath got himself a drink of water and took a turn up and down the room. Presently Swacker re-entered.

"Sorry, chief, but there's nothing doing. Cleaver's gone into the country somewhere. Won't be back till late to-night."

"He'll be here, sir!" Heath paused in his pacing and faced Markham. "I've been thinking," he said, "there's one thing that keeps coming up in my mind, so to speak. You remember that black document-box that was setting on the living-room table? It was empty, and what a woman generally keeps in that kind of a box is letters and things like that."

"Well, now, here's what's been bothering me; that box wasn't jimmied open—it was unlocked with a key. And, anyway, a professional crook don't take letters and documents. . . . You see what I mean, sir?"

"Sergeant of mine!" exclaimed Vance. "I shan't myself before you! I sit at your feet!" The document-box, the tidily opened, empty document box! Of course! Skeel didn't open it—never this world! That was the other chap's handwork.

"What was in your mind about that box, Sergeant?" asked Markham.

"Just this, sir. As Mr. Vance has insisted, right along there might be some one besides Skeel in that apartment during the night. And you told me that Cleaver admitted to you he'd paid Odell a lot of money to get back his letters. But suppose he never paid that money; suppose he there Monday night and took those letters. Wouldn't he have told you just the story he did about buying 'em back? Maybe that's how Mannix happened to see him there."

"That's not unreasonable," Markham acknowledged. "But where does it lead us?"

"Well, sir, if Cleaver did take 'em Monday night, he might have led on to 'em. And if any of those letters were dated later than last June, when he bought 'em back, then we'd have the goods on him."

"As I say, sir, I've been thinking. Now, Cleaver is outa town to-day; and if we could get hold of those letters."

"It might prove helpful, of course," said Markham coolly, looking the sergeant straight in the eye. "But such a thing is quite out of the question."

"Still and all," mumbled Heath, "Cleaver's been pulling a lot of raw stuff on you, sir."

"The next morning Markham and Vance and I breakfasted together at the Prince George, and arrived at the district attorney's office a few minutes past nine. Heath, with Cleaver in tow, was waiting in the reception-room."

To judge by Cleaver's manner as he entered, the sergeant had been none too considerate of him. He strode deliberately to the district attorney's desk and fixed a cool, resentful eye on Markham.

"Am I, by any chance, under arrest?" he demanded softly, but it was the rasping, suppressed softness of wrathful indignation.

"Not yet," said Markham curtly. "But if you were, you'd have only yourself to blame. Sit down."

Cleaver hesitated, and took the nearest chair.

"Why was I routed out of bed at 7:30 by this detective of yours?" he jerked his thumb toward Heath—"and then what you now know about him, you can whittle him most unconscionably—eh, what?"

"You were merely threatened with legal procedure unless you signed my invitation voluntarily. This is my short day at the office, and there was something explaining I wanted from you without delay."

"I'm damned if I'll explain anything to you under these conditions!" For all his nervousness, Cleaver was finding it difficult to control himself.

"I'm no pickpocket that you can drag in here when it suits your convenience and put through a third degree."

"That's eminently satisfactory to me," Markham spoke ominously. "But since you refuse to do your explaining as a free citizen, have no objection to alter your present status."

He turned to Heath. "Sergeant, go across the hall and have Ben Evans out a warrant for Charles Cleaver. Then look this gentleman up."

Cleaver gave a start, and caught his breath sibilantly.

"On what charge?" he demanded.

"The murder of Margaret Odell." The man sprang to his feet. The color had gone from his face, and the muscles of his jaws worked spasmodically.

"Wait! You're giving me a raw deal, and you'll lose out, too. You couldn't make that charge stick in a thousand years."

"Maybe not. But if you don't want to talk here, I'll make you talk in court."

"I'll talk here," Cleaver sat down again. "What do you want to know?" Markham took out a cigar and lit it with deliberation.

"First: Why did you tell me you were in Boonton Monday night?"

Cleaver apparently had expected the question.

"When I read of the Canary's death I wanted an alibi; and my brother had just given me the summons he'd been handed in Boonton. It was a ready-made alibi right in my hand. So I used it."

"Why did you need an alibi?"

"I didn't need it; but I thought it might save me trouble. People knew I'd been running round with the Odell girl; and some of them knew she'd been blackmailing me—I'd told 'em like a damn fool, I told Mannix, for instance. We'd both been stung."

"Is that your main reason for concocting this alibi?" Markham was watching him sharply.

"Wasn't it reason enough? Blackmail would have constituted a motive, wouldn't it?"

"It takes more than a motive to arouse unpleasant suspicion."

"Maybe so. Only I didn't want to be drawn into it. You can't blame me for trying to keep clear of it."

Markham leaned over with a threatening smile.

"The fact that Miss Odell had blackmailed you wasn't your only reason for lying about this summons. It wasn't even your main reason. It was your eyes narrowed, but otherwise he was like a graven image."

"You evidently know more about it than I do." He managed to make his words sound casual.

"Not more, Mr. Cleaver," Markham corrected him. "But nearly as much. Where were you between 11 o'clock and midnight Monday?"

"Perhaps that's one of the things you know."

"You're right. You were in Miss Odell's apartment."

Cleaver sneered, but he did not succeed in disguising the shock that Markham's accusation caused him.

"If that's what you think, then it happens you don't know, after all. I haven't put foot in her apartment for two weeks."

"I have the testimony of reliable witnesses to the contrary."

INDIGESTION WAS WRECKING HEALTH

What a grand thing it is for pretty girls, as well as for men and women, to know that they have in Tanlac just the tonic body-builder they need. Frequently it happens that young girls become pale and thin and nervous solely because of some digestive trouble which Tanlac quickly corrects. Even in the very severe cases, such as that of Miss Juliette Drouin, 125 Des Commissaires Street, Quebec, Tanlac meets every need. "Indigestion had such a hold on me that even the daintiest meal upset my stomach and caused acute discomfort. For six months, gas, heartburn, sourness followed even the lightest food. Every day seems to bring me added strength. Do you wonder that I am enthusiastic about Tanlac and recommend it so heartily?"

Such radiant health can be yours, too. Miss Drouin tells you are it. Get a bottle of Tanlac at your druggist's to-day, and let its tonic and up-building virtues correct your stomach trouble, relieve your nervous spells, make your digestion sound and re-build your health and strength.

YOUR BABY and MINE

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

KINDNESS, GENTLENESS AND FIRMNESS—CARDINAL POINTS IN DISCIPLINE

Mrs. M.B. writes:

"My baby simply will not lie down in her bed. I give her the bottle, and then I go out, expecting her to sleep, and before I can get out of the room she is standing up in her bed. She is seven and a half months old and has been doing this since she was six and a half months old."

"A week ago I started pinning her down, and realizing that she couldn't get up she has gone immediately to sleep since. I pin the hem of her dress down on both sides with strong pins. It leaves her legs free and her body loose, but keeps her there, nevertheless."

"I would like to have your idea on this. Is it cruel? It isn't uncomfortable because baby has always slept on her back. And I wouldn't for the world pin anything around her neck."

"She is so darling, Mrs. Eldred, and so bright. She minds so well and has never had a hard word spoken to her or a scare of any kind. I have trained her to keep things out of her mouth by pushing her hand down and saying 'No' if she tries to put anything in her mouth. I believe in inflicting a hurt on a little helpless child, no matter how old it is. But I do believe in establishing authority early in life. I started this by putting my baby in her bed when she became fractious and discontented. I would first see if there was anything the matter—if she wasn't thirsty or uncomfortable—and then I'd let her cry it out. It didn't take her long to discover that whining meant back to bed with no toys and no attention and she's so good now."

"Thank you so much for your leaflets. They have helped me such a lot. I would like to take issue with you on the one entitled 'Forcible Feeding.' I am a 'forcibly fed' child. I can remember even to this day, mother holding my nose and forcing me to eat things. Right there my hatred of my mother was established. And the whippings I got!"

ANSWER

It was not the forcible feeding that caused you to hate your mother, it was the whippings. Forcible feeding is always a last resort, and when used the manner in which the child is forced to eat an unpalatable but necessary food, is tremendously important. Kindness, gentleness and firmness are necessary, but never cruelty or harshness. You misread the intent of the leaflet if you saw any connection between your mother's method and mine. Loosen the baby's clothes after she is asleep.

Editor's Note:—The leaflet on "Forcible Feeding" referred to above is designed to break bad feeding habits which babies and children have been permitted to form. Any mother may have the leaflet for a self-addressed stamped envelope and a request for it.

WELCOME CLUB—There will be a meeting of the Welcome Club at the Y.M.C.A. on Thursday, April 26. In the afternoon from 4 o'clock to 6 o'clock tea will be served, when an opportunity will be given the members of the club and their friends to meet Miss Elliott.

Y.W.C.A. secretary from Hongkong, China, who has been spending some time in Canada on furlough, and is now on her way back to Hongkong. Supper will be served as usual at 6 o'clock, after which a social hour will be spent.

B.C. WOMAN MOVIE CENSOR COMPLETES TEN YEARS' OFFICE

PARENTS' RESPONSIBILITY.

"Often there is much I would like to see eliminated. But a film cannot be cut just anywhere. If the story interest is spoiled the film may be ruined from a commercial point of view. And we are obliged to give this at least some consideration. When a doubtful film is impossible to revise with some degree of satisfaction, we reject it altogether. The happy medium is what one might call the sum-total of our efforts. We cannot always make plays suitable for children, or for the adolescent boy or girl, because the material submitted for us was never intended for a juvenile entertainment. Sometimes we try to shift the responsibility for keeping their children away from unsuitable shows on to the censor's shoulders."

Sparking frankly to a large organization of women, I once heard Mrs. Patterson ask them: "Do you trouble to consider the type of screen story your children see in the same way that you would supervise reading matter? You might as well argue that all the books in a public library should be children's books."

Some people might think it an easy job, this censoring of films. But is it?

CRIME PICTURES.

In the darkened auditorium, with the drumming of the projecting machine thrumming incessantly in my ears, I sat with Mrs. Patterson, and soon wearied of a much-padded, tiresome night play. It was one of the crime pictures which are just as much a problem to the censors as the so-called sex dramas. True, the hero and heroine were in the last reel. But, as Mrs. Patterson pointed out, the impression of the crime scenes and gunplay might easily overshadow the effect of any projected good moral lesson.

"If we cannot clean up a play like this by eliminating the more violent scenes and changing sub-titles, we are compelled to reject it altogether. We are convinced it is against the public's interests to show this type of picture. In plays where the scenes are unpleasantly suggestive we can often effect a remedy by rewriting the title. We would often like to cut down more than we do, but one cannot always do it because of ruining the continuity of the story."

MANAGES A HOME.

Every woman in a business or profession must face a battery of questions as to how she manages the double burden of home and office. Now and again some well-known personality makes answer. One of Canada's best known writers of wholesome fiction, Mrs. Nellie McClung, has recently had something to say on the matter. Successful business and professional women are frequently also successful as homemakers and mothers.

For years Mrs. Patterson baked bread at night after her return home.

"I never dreamed of giving my children anything but home-made bread," Mrs. Patterson told me. "Hard work? This double shift of home and office? Yes, but I have been able to give my children advantage. I would not otherwise have been able to afford it."

"And mother didn't have to be watching us all the time, either," say the children, one married and the others growing up. "Mother's influence was just as strong whether she was at home all day or at the office working for us. We are all proud of mother."

JOB NO SECURE.

People often regard a Government job as some sort of security. They conjure up visions of mahogany desks, private secretaries, easy work and easy hours. But on the Censor Board it means many of one's waking hours in a dark room, with the "nerve-strain of eyes and brains alert for hours at a time."

Those ten years—and more—from 1917, have meant better films for the public. What has been these years, about out from daylight and sunshine meant to Mrs. Patterson—the woman behind the film?

Some people would cry out: "Ruined eyesight, shattered nerves—and, ah, the thanklessness of public service!" But Mrs. Patterson is not the crying kind. Her eyes are usually twinkling behind the dark glasses. She has a gay smile and smiles often. It needs high spirits, physical stamina and plenty of courage to stand the strain and responsibility of censor work. The British Columbia board is possibly the hardest worked in Canada, for there are no regular hours. Often a film is sent in late with an urgent request for an immediate decision.

When we sit in our favorite theatres and enjoy the entertainment provided on the silver screen, we should give a kindly thought to that dark room where straining eyes and vigilant minds keep guard for us and ours. There is a "man behind the gun" in every national crisis. There is now a "woman behind the film" on an increasing number of censor boards.

MY KITCHEN NOTEBOOK

by Mary Blake

Domestic Science Counselor

When Hungry Youngsters
Come in from Play

You cannot wonder that they need fuel for their engines, when you see the amazing amount of energy they burn up in a few minutes. But you look at the clock—it's near supper time. One mustn't spoil their appetites for the evening meal. Something simple and nourishing but not too heavy is what you want.

Why not suggest a chocolate or maple custard? You'll be rewarded not only by wide grins but by the comforting knowledge that they are getting their all important quota of milk in a disguise so pleasing that it is looked upon as a special treat.

Your Oven Temperature
Decides the Success of Custards

Custards are so simple to make that one is apt to grow careless or hurried in the baking of them. The result is a watery custard, none too appetizing to look upon and even less appetizing to eat. Baked in a slow oven—225°—until an inserted knife comes out clean, the resulting custard will be smooth, firm and creamy. For variety try chocolate, caramel, brown sugar and maple custards or combine them with fruits or with lady fingers. But the most important thing of all to remember in making custards of any variety is to use Carnation Milk.

The Creamiest, Smoothest
Custards

If you want richer, creamier custards, custards with a finer texture and a greater smoothness—you'll never use anything but Carnation. There's very good reason for this exceptional success. The evaporation of Carnation to double richness gives a richer, creamier custard. The "homogenization" of the milk—a breaking-up of the cream globules into minute particles distributed uniformly throughout every drop of milk—creates a smoother, finer texture.

And what is true of custards is true of all other foods in which Carnation is used. Carnation gives in puddings, ice creams, cakes, soups, sauces and candies results which even the best of bottled milk cannot equal.

There are new food delights awaiting you in the use of Carnation Milk—new cooking economy and convenience. The Carnation Cook Book—My Hundred Favorite Recipes—is full of fascinating recipes. It's free. Won't you send for it? Address Carnation Milk Products Co., Limited, 134 Abbott Street, Vancouver, B.C.

Carnation Caramel Custard
2 cups Carnation Milk diluted with 2 cups hot water, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 tsp. salt, 5 eggs, 1 tsp. vanilla. Caramelize sugar by melting over a flame, add to scalded diluted milk in double boiler; when sugar dissolves add to slightly beaten eggs; add salt and vanilla; pour into buttered cups; bake in 225°F. oven, in deep pan of hot water.

Use It In
Custards

IT is easy to make the richest and creamiest of custards. Just use Carnation Milk—the creamy-smooth milk which insures better results in all cooking because it is pure, whole milk, evaporated to double richness. It keeps. It saves money. (See recipe above)

Opening Crowds Large
At Home Products Fair

Hon. R. R. Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, Formally Opens Exhibition at Armories; Praises Display of Schools and Local Industrial Firms; Colorful Array of Victoria Products

Opening day crowds thronged to the Home Products Fair at the Bay Street Armories yesterday afternoon and evening, greeting His Honor R. R. Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, who formally opened the display to the public and remaining to view with interest the various exhibits.

Throughout the afternoon, scores came to examine and to exclaim. During the evening a still larger crowd paraded the lines of booths and danced to the strains of the sixteenth Canadian Scottish Regimental orchestra under Bandmaster Miller.

The same band was present to play at the Lieutenant-Governor entered the drill hall at 2.30 o'clock in the afternoon. His Honor moved to the platform to deliver his brief address and when he had concluded was given hearty applause.

UNIQUE DISPLAY
Shopping Week was being recognized at old and young, said His Honor. "It shows what determined spirits can accomplish. Much of this material on view is unique in that it is Victoria's own, originated and manufactured here."

I only hope that the citizens will come here and show their appreciation of what these business men have done, both for themselves and for the city."

Referring to the fact that Empire Shopping Week was being recognized at present throughout the length and breadth of Canada, His Honor declared that the time was opportune for a Home Products Fair.

PRAISES SCHOOLS
He praised the public school's exhibits on view, remarking that they were even better than usual. It was gratifying to know, he said, that there was so much young talent in Victoria. There was a movement afoot, gaining impetus particularly at the present time, said His Honor, to arouse greater public sympathy and support in the Provincial Government's campaign to prevent forest fires and to save the standing timber which is the wealth of British Columbia's undeveloped woodlands. He trusted, he said, that Victoria would not be slow in responding to the appeal.

Declaring the fair open, His Honor said that he was told that the public would be admitted every afternoon and evening to see the various moving and manufacturers' displays.

ENTERTAINMENT
The fair is open from 1 o'clock every afternoon until 10.30 o'clock in the evening until Saturday, which is the last opportunity to see the exhibits of local industrial firms. Daily from 3 o'clock a ten-piece orchestra is in attendance.

A special feature of this evening's performance will be the Y.M.C.A. gymnastic display, under the supervision of Archie McKinnon, physical director of the class.

VALUABLE PRIZE
Everyone who visited the fair yesterday and paid the nominal entrance fee, and everyone who will visit it later in the week, receives a ticket entitling them to enter the simple competition for which a splendid home site on Moss Street has been offered as a prize by the city.

NATIONAL LINE
NOT HOPELESS

Government Steamers Being Used to Advantage, Says
Sir Henry Thornton

Ottawa, April 25.—The Canadian National Board has been considering the Montreal terminals problem for four years and has developed a plan for the solution of the problem. This information was given to the Parliamentary Committee on Railways and Shipping yesterday by Sir Henry Thornton. Sir Henry informed the committee that the Canadian National Railways was a constantly growing entity, and that it required additions and improvements all the time. Some of these things were unremunerative. For instance, there was the Toronto viaduct. Again, there were new passenger stations. Such things were necessary, but not directly remunerative. It was the policy of the C.N.R. to limit this capital expenditure in so far as possible.

The committee then decided to take up the affairs of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine. Sir Henry said that if the business and accounts were to be gone into he would have to ask the press to be excluded. This had been done last year. He had no desire to conceal anything, but there were certain facts which would injure the Government Marine if they became the property of competing lines.

NAME CHANGED
Sir Henry told the committee that the name had been changed from the Canadian Government Merchant Marine to Canadian National Steamships.

The C.N. Steamship Company, associated with the C.N.R., carries its own insurance. The insurance reserve carried for both the railways and merchant marine was $10,000,000 in Government bonds. Of this, $2,000,000 was for the steamships. Sir Henry informed the committee that if he was asked to-day whether or not the Government should embark on the policy of establishing a merchant marine, he would advise against it. But Canada had the ships and he thought that they could be used to advantage. They acted as a deterrent to unfair rates, they explored trade routes and they gave service to certain sections of Canada.

ALL EMPLOYED
He stated that all the vessels of the fleet were to-day employed in service.

The Canadian National Steamship Line was not a hopeless proposition, said Sir Henry. It would be a "long, uphill fight" before the Government line of ships could rank in any way with the Canadian Pacific Railway ships, but even now he felt that it was contributing something to the trade of Canada.

Have You Made Your Income Tax Return for 1927?

The law provides penalties for those liable to taxation if a return is not made by April 30.

GET copies of the official form applicable to your case without delay. They may be secured at any Post Office in Canada, or by writing the Inspector of Income Tax for your district. Fill in all the details requested. Make up the amount of your tax. Mail two copies to the Inspector in your district, together with an accepted bank cheque or money order as mentioned below. Keep a third copy for your own reference. If your income for 1927 is more than $1,500, but you think you are not liable to taxation because of exemptions, it is best to file the return in any event. You have only till April 30 to make your return.

Three Kinds of Forms

There are three kinds of Dominion Income Tax Forms, one of which will apply to any tax payer. The different forms are:

- Form T 1—For all individuals, other than farmers or ranchers.
- Form T 1A—For farmers and ranchers.
- Form T 2—For corporations and joint stock companies.

If you so desire, the Inspector of Income Tax for your district will send you upon written request a revised copy of The Income Tax Act, Consolidated, Chapter 97 (R.S.C. 1927).

Income from All Sources Must be Declared

The public is especially reminded to report all income from bearer bonds—whether Dominion, Provincial, Municipal or Industrial. The interest from these bonds is taxable. The 1928 legislation enlarges the powers of the department which is now enabled to trace the ownership of all bearer bonds.

Personal Exemptions

Personal exemptions should be noted carefully. They may be summarized as follows:

- (a) $3,000 in the case of a married person or householder, or any other person who has dependent upon him any of the following persons:
  1. A parent or grand-parent.
  2. A daughter or sister.
  3. A son or brother under 21 years of age; or incapable of self-support on account of mental or physical infirmity—except where the husband and wife each have a separate income in excess of $1,500, then each shall receive not $3,000 exemption, but $1,500 exemption.
- (b) $1,500 in the case of unmarried persons.
- (c) $500 for each child under 21 years of age who is dependent upon the tax payer for support, or if 21 years of age or over is incapable of self-support on account of mental or physical infirmity.

Send Cheque with the Return

Income tax may be paid either in a lump sum or in four installments, plus interest. An accepted cheque or express or money

Cheques are to be made payable to "The Receiver General of Canada." Cheques must be marked "accepted" by the bank on which drawn.

FILE YOUR RETURN ON OR BEFORE APRIL 30.

If you delay making Income Tax returns the penalties provided by the Act must be imposed.

UP TO LEGISLATURE

"This, however," Chief Justice Anglin adds, "is not a matter within our province. It is for the legislature to consider whether the existing incapacity ought to be removed. But should parliament in its wisdom determine to do so,
no doubt it will be done by the use of language very different from anything that is to be found in the present act of parliament."

The decision in Chorton vs. Lings is regarded as of the highest authority.
In the opinion of the Supreme Court of Canada, it is a conclusive against the petitioners alike on the question of the common law incapacity of women to exercise such public functions as those of a member of the Senate, and on that of their being expressly excluded from the class of qualified persons within 8-34 of the British North America Act by the terms
in which 8-23 is worded, so that Lord Brougham's Act cannot be invoked to extend those terms to bring "women" within their purview.

MR. JUSTICE DUFF

Mr. Justice Duff first recalls the general character and purpose of the British North America Act, and then deals specifically with the legislative authority of parliament.

"The Senate is a part of the parliamentary system. In order to test the contention of the petitioners, one is bound to consider the Act as a whole in its bearing on this subject of the exclusion of women from public place and office."

Mr. Justice Duff states that he is unable to accept the argument in support of the limited construction insofar as it rests upon the view that in constructing the legislative and executive powers granted by the British North America Act there is any general presumption against the eligibility of women for public office.

The Act in two sections deals with the authority of parliament with regard to the disqualification of women to be elected, or to sit or vote.

In all the confederated provinces,
they were disqualified as voters, in one section from places in the legislative assembly and in another the right to vote was confined explicitly to males.

This authority to deal with disqualification is given in the general language of section ninety-one.

OLD PROVINCES' PRECEDENT

But the old provinces also had the power to deal with disqualifications of members of the legislative council. Reference to the successful tenderer will follow in general structure and phrase

Sealed tenders addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Crane for material on the Esquimalt Memorial Park, B.C.,

U.S. MISSION HEAD KILLED IN SHANTUNG

Mrs. Seymour and other missionaries at Taining are believed to be safe. It is thought they are unable to leave the region because it is overrun by Nationalist soldiers moving northward.

Dr. Seymour, a graduate of Westminster University and the Northwestern Medical School, Evanston, Ind., came to China in 1893.

The Presbyterian headquarters here were advised in other dispatches from Taining that Presbyterians throughout Shantung, except those at Taining, had either left or their leaving was under way.

JAPANESE REPORT DIFFERS
Tokio, April 25.—A Peking dispatch to Bengo, the Japanese news agency, says a United States Methodist missionary is reported to have been executed by Chinese Nationalists at Yen-chow, Shantung, on a charge of hiding wounded Northern Chinese soldiers.

STUFFING OUR BRAINS
A Pennsylvania psychologist announces that if a man acquired 30,000 bits of information a day, his brain would be stuffed to capacity by the time he was fifty years old. After that he could learn nothing more.

Knowing nothing of psychology, we nevertheless feel there must be some truth in the professor's figures, which wrong with the professor's figures. We know any number of men whose brains are hermetically sealed and who are not yet fifty, but they have learned nothing new in a dozen years. And we're positive they never took in 30,000 bits of information in one day—or in 1,000.

SIGN LANGUAGE USED IN COURT

Petitioner in Divorce Hearing Is Deaf Mute

Communication with those who are deprived by misfortune of the normal means of expression in words, was effected in a hearing in the Supreme Court yesterday through an interpreter in the sign language of the deaf and dumb.

George W. Gaetner, a resident of Seattle, acted as an interpreter for the petitioner in the divorce hearing of Florence M. E. M. Spurrer versus William Henry Spurrer. Through an interpreter Mrs. Spurrer set out that she had been married to the respondent in 1899 at Victoria, in a romance that had been broken up by separation eight years later.

Mr. Gaetner conversed with the petitioner in the sign language and then stated her replies, so that the court would have a copy of the evidence of the witness on record. Mr. Justice Murphy granted a decree absolute. J. Clearhouse appeared for the petitioner, in an undefended hearing.

LATEST ADDITION TO C.P.R. FLEET ARRIVES IN PORT

Dale & Company, Vancouver, B.C.; H. V. Hunter, Canada Trust Company and Newton T. Burdick, Vancouver Drydock and Salvage Company.

The salvage King, which had been anchored at quarantine since 5.30 o'clock this morning, she ran up a welcome signal on her signal yards, flags representing the letters ZBH being flown to convey this message. The Elaine answered with blasts from her whistle.

The salvage King circled the new steamer and then drew alongside, the welcoming party going aboard to inspect her.

Many expressions of approval of the new vessel were heard as the party was shown over her.

"I am very pleased with her," said Capt. Group, "she makes a fine addition to our fleet."

"We should appreciate more the excellent service given by the Canadian Pacific," declared His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor. "The accommodation on this vessel is wonderful."

His Honor compared the Elaine with some of the English Channel steamers on which he had been a passenger. "I am sure this is the latest thing in ferry steamers," he said. "The accommodation is excellent, especially that for the women."

"New possibilities are opened out for us by the service which this steamer will provide. We may take our automobiles from here to Nanaimo, cross to the Mainland in fast time, and thus have a pleasant alternative to the regular Victoria-Vancouver route, he concluded.

AUTO CAPACITY
Practically the whole of the freight deck of the Princess Elaine is arranged for the transportation of automobiles. Between seventy and seventy-five cars can be accommodated and sufficient clearance is given at the ports to enable most makes of cars to pass easily.

Her passenger accommodation, which includes, besides staterooms, seating capacity for approximately 1,200 people, is luxuriously finished and extends for practically the entire length of the ship. There are two day rooms on the ship, these being fitted with settees while the other staterooms have upper and lower berths. Hot and cold running water and electric heaters are furnished.

The dining-room, on the lower deck seats 100 people at once and is excellently arranged. The galley, which is furnished with latest modern devices, making the catering department the latest word in this line.

FINE VOYAGE
Capt. Ronald N. Stuart, V.C.; D.S.O., R.N.R., who commanded the Elaine on her voyage, said the new steamer had a fine run across the Atlantic and up the Pacific Coast to this port.

Capt. Stuart said the Elaine, leaving this distinction for his work in connection with the Q-ship Pargust in 1917. The Pargust was torpedoed by a German submarine, but through skillful work in decoying the underwater craft closer, the enemy craft was finally destroyed. Capt. Stuart was formerly staff officer on the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Australia.

DELAIED AT START
The Princess Elaine was delayed nearly a week in English waters before starting out across the Atlantic, bad weather holding her on the English coast. She left Liverpool at 8 a.m. on March 16, proceeding to Gourock, where owing to heavy gales, she was forced to halt, anchoring at Tall-of-the-bank. She started out again the following morning but was forced to again seek shelter, anchoring at Barnstaple in Bristol Channel.

On March 21, she proceeded to Swansea to take on board the mail, that part the following day. Adverse weather was again encountered and the ship attempted to make Falmouth for shelter.

That night was the worst experienced during the voyage. Heavy gales blowing off Plymouth prevented her from making that port and the ship spent the whole night there, going into the harbor next morning. She stayed there until March 25, when she headed southward.

TASTE OF WEATHER
Crossing the Bay of Biscay, a fair taste of the weather was experienced, but after calling at Las Palmas in the Canary Islands for fuel, the vessel encountered fair skies and moderate winds and her trip from then on was more or less pleasant. She called at San Juan, Porto Rico, for fuel, going from there to the Panama Canal and then to Balboa, after which she called at Colon, Panama, last Saturday, thence heading direct for this port.

From Plymouth, the Elaine made the trip to Victoria in thirty-four days. She is a fine sea boat.

WIRELESS TELEPHONE
The Elaine is the first vessel of the Canadian Pacific Coast fleet to be equipped with wireless telephone. In addition to the regular wireless apparatus she carries instruments for the transmission of human voice, W. Young, the purser and wireless officer explained. On her wireless apparatus the Elaine spoke the Government station at Estevan Point at a range of 900 miles.

The new vessel will not be thrown

BARROW TO WED NAKUSP LADY ON SATURDAY

Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, left here to-day for Nakusp where he will be married on Saturday afternoon to Mrs. E. H. S. McLean of the interior city. After a brief honeymoon, Mr. Barrow and his bride will return here next week. They will reside at Mr. Barrow's home, Faithful Street.

open to public inspection, officials of the B.C. Coast Steamship Service announced. Her ports having been boarded up and other protection made for the Atlantic trip, considerable work will have to be done on her before she goes into service on May 6, and there will not be sufficient time for the public to go over her.

The new vessel was built by John Brown and Company of Clydebank, Scotland.

BROKERS AT DINNER TALK BULL MARKET

In preparation for the bull market, in British Columbia mining stocks, which they declared would be staged some time later, members of the Victoria Stock Exchange held their Spring dinner party at the Empress Hotel last night, the Grill Room being reserved for the occasion.

Hotel Rotunda Gossip

The rush of travel eastward from California, which during the last few weeks filled the local hotels, is now easing off, and the difficulty experienced by travelers in securing accommodation is not so pronounced.

The large number of Winnipeg and Edmonton people staying in the city up to a few days ago have returned to their homes on the prairies.

The keenest interest was displayed to-day in the arrival of the St. Princess Elaine on her maiden trip from Clydebank with transportation men in the city from various points on the Coast to look over the latest addition to the C.P.R. Coast fleet. Among those registered at the Empress Hotel to-day were Vancouver Superintendent at Vancouver and the skipper who brought out to this Coast the steamers Princess Kathleen and Princess Marguerite.

He was one of the first men to greet Capt. Ronald Stuart, master of the Princess Elaine.

Another Vancouver man over to meet the Elaine was P. R. DesBrisay.

From Nanaimo, out of which port the Princess Elaine will be operated, came John W. Coburn and Edward S. Taylor. Roy Little, of the Lillooet Tug Company of Lillooet, is also at the Empress Hotel, and as a shipping man evinced great interest in the new ferry.

Capt. Roland Stuart, to-day include E. F. Money and J. G. Money, of Burnaby, West Australia, who are staying at the Empress Hotel.

TWO ON TRIAL IN VANCOUVER

C. P. Porter and A. Marks Plead Not Guilty to Stock Deal Charge

Vancouver, April 25.—Ball for Charles P. Porter and A. Marks, charged with conspiracy to defraud the public in connection with the operation of a stockbrokers' office here, was renewed at the conclusion of Tuesday's hearing by Mr. Justice Morrison, who vacated his order restraining the bonds.

Overruling the objection of Prosecutor A. M. Johnson, K.C., who demanded $10,000 bail for Porter and $5,000 bail for Marks, the judge fixed bail in the amounts he had ordered originally, $5,000 for Porter and $5,000 for Marks. Pending completion of the bonds, the two accused were removed by Provincial police to the Oakalla jail.

After the trial had been proceeding for about an hour, A. H. Fleischman arrived and announced he was counsel for Marks.

AL SMITH TO WIN, GALVIN DECLARES

Herbert Hoover Almost Assured Republican Nomination

Governor Al Smith of New York not only will be chosen by acclamation as candidate of the Democratic party at the convention in Houston, but he will be the next President of the United States, according to J. G. Galvin, financial man, who arrived here to-day from New York.

Mr. Galvin was chosen one of the delegates to the Houston convention to represent Alaska, where he has large holdings.

"The whole East has swung over strong to Al Smith," Mr. Galvin said. "All the religious, wet and sectional propaganda that has been put out against him has failed. He has proved himself to be too big a man and far above anything petty."

"The Wall Street financial interests, which have heretofore been almost consistently Republican, have swung over to support Smith in this election as he is a New York man and Wall Street in the past has supported him and his administration as Governor at Albany."

"Smith's wonderful personality and the oil scandals at Washington under the Republican Ohio influence, are responsible for the change-over in public attitude."

"Herbert Hoover is almost assured the Republican nomination. He is also a strong and capable man and will give Smith a tight run. Altogether, the election next November will be the most keenly contested political fight for generations in the United States."

FARMERS ASK CABINET TO LIFT RURAL AREA FROM SAANICH CONTROL

To this Reeve Crouch replied briefly that Mr. O'Halloran had not stated all the facts and warned the Government to be careful in dividing the municipality, a move which he feared would impede progress.

Mr. O'Halloran presented petitions for disincorporation, from 788 landowners, 322 from Ward Six, 280 from Ward Five and 151 from Ward Four. More than half the land affected by the disincorporation plan was represented by the petitions, he said, showing with a map the area seeking to withdraw from the municipality. He explained that all Wards Five and Six and the largest part of Ward Four would be disincorporated under this plan. He quoted figures to show the area and population of each ward and presented exhaustive details of the land affected by the proposed secession move.

BIG VALUES AFFECTED
The petitioners, he stated, represented property assessed at $2,590,276. "The petition is as representative as it is possible to be under the circumstances," he declared as he presented figures to show how the entire rural area of Saanich was overwhelming in favor of secession, this plan being advanced under the name of the Saanich Farmers' Association.

Mr. O'Halloran outlined the developments leading up to the present demand.

"There is no basis on which a rural and urban area can be assessed on the same way," he argued in asserting that the farming areas are inequitably assessed.

Mr. O'Halloran detailed at length the features of the last Saanich municipal election to uphold his contention that Saanich farmers had been unable to secure justice except through disincorporation.

DETAILS OF EXPENDITURES
Details of expenditures by the municipality in the various wards of Saanich in the last few years were presented by Mr. O'Halloran to prove that the rural wards receive far less than the urban wards contribute to the municipal treasury while the reverse condition prevails in the urban wards. This situation had become more acute than ever in 1927, when taxation in the rural areas had increased, he said.

Turning to school taxes, Mr. O'Halloran stated that the rural wards last year paid $23,000 more towards school taxes than they received from the municipality for educational purposes.

"In other words, they paid $23,000 towards the cost of education in other parts of the municipality," he declared. Summarizing his figures, Mr. O'Halloran submitted that equality of assessment and taxation as between urban and rural territory was impossible, and even if they were possible, there was no disposition on the part of the municipality to accord this equality, as proved by recent events.

WOULD COST LESS
Mr. O'Halloran went on to declare that it would cost the Government less for the administration of rural Saanich if it were disincorporated than it does now. If this were done, he said, the Government would be in pocket, according to recent figures for collections and expenditures. Attorney-General Manson, however, pointed out that Mr. O'Halloran's figures were necessarily based on municipal tax levies which are much lower than those of the municipality. If the Government administered the area it could not strike a special rate for Saanich higher than for other parts of the Province, Mr. Manson said. Premier MacLean interjected that the Government, of course, would investigate all these matters to see whether it could afford disincorporation or not.

FEARS FOR FUTURE
The farmers of Saanich, Mr. O'Halloran explained, are concerned over the probability that the urban districts will require sewerage systems and that they will have to pay heavily for these improvements from which they will get no direct benefit. Sewers are built even without the consent of the voters under the Health Act, he pointed out. Only disincorporation could protect the rural dwellers in the future, he asserted.

ONLY SOLUTION
H. E. Tanner, who has been associated with the public affairs of Saanich since 1890 and who was one of the leaders in the incorporation of the municipality in 1906, told the Government that disincorporation of the rural area now offered the only solution of the present difficulties over taxation. The time for this move, he said, was particularly opportune as municipal road loans would mature during the next eighteen months. Under existing conditions, he explained, the Saanich Council frequently is deduced between the urban and rural representation, the latter tending to approve any plan which will increase the taxation burden of their people. He added that rural Saanich would remain rural for a long time as it is being divided into small holdings for Insurance companies are urging the Government to alter its present taxation system to exempt them from the present provincial corporation levy so far as their investments in British Columbia are concerned. A delegation urging this exemption will meet the Government during the next few days.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.

Winnipeg, April 25.—Wheat—Very unfavorable reports from Winter wheat territory, indicating the heaviest winter killing ever known in the United States with the remaining crop apparently still losing ground, was the cause of a very bullish wheat market to-day, and prices after opening higher, advanced until gains of about 3 cents had been scored, while Chicago market scored an advance of over 4 cents.

There was buying by Seaboard houses and export business overnight was in larger volume than for days, but this business was only in evidence during the first part of the day, though the market advanced apparently too fast for permit of further new business. Chicago interests were again buying in Winnipeg October, while the local trade were buying the nearby months and selling the October. Commission houses were good buyers, indicating that the public were coming into the market on a broader scale. Offerings were not large, but there were realizing sales on the scale up, while the pool were credited with letting out a little wheat around top level.

The cash market was a little more active to-day with a better demand for certain grades from shippers and millers. Offerings continue light, which restricts business. Spreads were unchanged to a better. Sentiment appears to be very bullish, and should further deterioration take place to the U.S. Winter or Spring wheat crops, that country would easily be on a domestic basis, which would mean much higher prices. The weather in Western Canada is now very favorable for spring work, and seedling is under way in many districts, and will be general in a day or two.

(By B.C. Bond Corporation direct wire)

Chicago, April 25.—Wheat—New highs again to-day with best prices near the close. May took the lead and sells at a premium. Apparently shorts are doing most of the liquidating, export sales for day were light, but they will have to come back for Europe has under-ought as compared with requirements, relying on free supplies from Argentina.

Crop news was not changed. New breaks did not receive the promised rains and high cold winds were reported to-day from Kansas. The renewal of market activity as come a little sooner than anticipated, but we can't feel that the end of the bull movement is in sight. Until growing conditions become more favorable there is no new crop prospect which would make present levels seem unreasonable.

Corn: New high prices were registered in corn also, based on continuing deficiency in current receipts and on further improvement in cash demand which will cut into accumulations of supplies. May has narrowed its discount under July about a cent indicating desire on the part of warehouse men to continue to own their own stock, rather than risk loss of ownership through heavy deliveries.

Canario Mine Frauds Bring Indictments

New York, April 25.—The brokerage concern of Cameron, Michel and Company, Inc., now in receivership, with which former United States Senator Ralph H. Cameron of Arizona was formerly connected, three officers of the company and several other individuals and companies were accused of mail fraud in an indictment filed by the Federal Grand Jury. Postal inspectors and other federal officials have been investigating the alleged fraudulent activities of the defendants for about a year. Assistant United States Attorney David W. Peck, who presented the facts to the grand jury, said that Mr. Cameron had disposed of his interest in the brokerage concern in 1920, when he was elected United States senator, that since that time he had not been identified in any way and that through the entire investigation the name of the former senator did not appear in any of its activities. The name of Mr. Michel, Mr. Cameron's partner before the latter's election to the Senate, is also used only to indicate the firms under indictment. The present officers of the firm who are named as defendants are George F. Shurtliff, Herbert C. Locke and John T. Locke.

It is charged that the defendants gathered about $7,000,000 from persons who had been induced to invest in the stock of the Canario Copper Company of Arizona, with an advertised capital of $3,000,000 and the Canario Copper Company, Inc., which, it was said, was to be formed as the successor of the other company, with a capital of $20,000,000.

The other defendants charged with conspiracy in the alleged fraudulent scheme are John Carter Anderson, mining engineer; Oscar Begel, newspaper writer, and the following salesmen and other employees, Harry C. Carragher, Oscar G. Funky, Harry B. Cutcher, Richard Blechner, W. H. Day, the Cameron Holding Corporation and the Copper Exploration Company, Inc.

It is alleged that the individual defendants schemed to defraud the two Canario companies and thirty-five individuals whose names and addresses appear in the bill. In 1925, so well was the venture of the defendants advertised, that the stock of the two copper companies was boomed on the curb. Then came an inquiry by Albert Ottinger, the state attorney-general, to ascertain whether there had been any violation of law. About this time the stock of the companies were stricken from the curb market. Then came reports that the various mining companies boomed by the principal defendants were in bad financial shape.

All of the smaller aspects of the charge follow the usual course of swindling through the sale of worthless stock. Part of the scheme, it was alleged, was a pretence by the defendants that they would purchase large blocks of the stock of the Canario Corporation at an agreed price, which they did not intend to pay at all, and then sell this stock to all who could be induced to buy at largely increased prices.

According to the indictment, an intensive advertising campaign was carried on by means of circulars, special letters and by oral representatives, all of which proclaimed that the companies owned 1,347 acres of land in Mazocari, State of Sonora, Mexico; that these acres were to be developed into richly productive copper mines; that the promoters were to advance money to the El Canario Consolidated Copper Company, S.A., and that development work was to be instituted immediately.

HALIBURTON ORE TO GIVE RADIUM

Toronto, April 25.—Brig-Gen. C. H. Mitchell, Dean of the University of Toronto, applied science and engineering faculty, in an address before the Canadian Progress Club, predicted that radium deposits in Haliburton County might soon be under development. Radium ore found in Haliburton is similar to that in the Belgian Congo, the chief source of the priceless mineral.

The speaker had chosen for his topic "Development of Our Natural Resources," in which he reviewed the needs regarding these developments. One of his observations was that the ore-bearing "shield" extends only a short distance beyond the international line. He referred to the problem of bringing coal excavators from the coal areas of Canada to help in the smelting of the ores found in the central belt.

For the purpose of extensive road building he had noticed that the thousands of Alberta formed excellent foundations. The new Welland Canal, he said, would accommodate ships having half a million bushels capacity and that ocean-going ships of medium size would have no trouble in going through. Some 2,370,000 tons of coal are to be mined at Montreal last season. With deeper channels they could have been carried west to Fort William if necessary.

Trail ore receipts

Nelson, April 25.—Ore received at the Trail reduction plant of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company for the year ending 1928 up to April 21, amounted to 192,102 tons. Of this 23,770 tons were shipped by custom mines and the remainder 168,332 tons by company mines. In the week ending April 21, company mines shipped 9,770 tons and custom mines 1,020 tons, making a total of 11,790 tons.

NORWICH CITY CRASHES SPAN

Damage Amounting to $50,000 Done to Freighter En Route to Victoria

Vancouver, April 25.—Tidal currents at Second Narrows Bridge claimed their twelfth victim in four years on Tuesday afternoon when the British freighter Norwich City crashed under and through the fixed span north of the open bascule and suffered damage estimated at $50,000. The vessel's bridge was demolished as she slid under the span. The damage to the bridge was slight.

The ship was outboard from Barnet, where she loaded a cargo of lumber for New York. She planned to pass the bridge at low water slack, but was a few minutes late at 3:50 p.m. when she arrived. She sheered in the eddies of the rushing current and struck the north span with a rending of steel and timber.

BRIDGE DAMAGE

A portion of the wooden sidewalk, on the east side of the bridge was crushed inwards. The ship's steel masts folded back like jackknives, the chart house went down like a deck of cards and the steel smokestack gave way as though it were paper. Then the after mast went crashing down, and the ship was free of the bridge.

After the ship was dropped and for half an hour the ship, with the tide gaining in strength as it rose, held her own. Then the water began to force her slowly back again. No tugs were on hand which could aid, and it was feared the ship would swing broadside on the bridge and possibly carry it away.

FINE SEAMANSHIP

Capt. H. Shotton, the vessel's skipper, showed rare judgment in his predicament, however. Using his anchors as a guide, he slackened the chains slowly, holding the ship's head to the current and permitting her to slip back through the hole she had made, under the bridge.

Again there was a scream of steel and a tearing of timbers, and again the ship was free, with some crumpling of masts and stack.

The vessel swung at her anchor all night, and at 7:30 a.m. was taken in tow to Burrard Drydock, North Vancouver, for survey and repairs.

NEW C.P.R. FERRY STEAMER PRINCESS ELAINE AND HER MASTER FOR THE MAIDEN TRIP FROM THE OLD COUNTRY TO THIS PORT

WITH LATEST EQUIPMENT, SS. PRINCESS ELAINE WILL PROVIDE SPEEDY SERVICE

New Ferry Steamer of 2,027 Tons Gross Has Every Facility for Provision of Fast and Capable Service in Gulf Traffic; Will Cover the Distance Between Nanaimo and Vancouver in Just Over Two Hours

Every detail has been attended to in the building of the new ferry steamer, Princess Elaine, to make her an efficient vessel for the heavy passenger and automobile traffic between Vancouver Island and the mainland. The Elaine reached Victoria to-day, completing her maiden voyage from the Old Country to this port.

In appearance somewhat similar to several of the other vessels of the B.C. Coast Steamship Service, operating out of Victoria to various ports of the Province, the Elaine is slightly larger than the well-known Princess Victoria, which is 300 feet in length, but the Elaine has eight feet more beam than this vessel.

AUTOMOBILE SPACE

Special attention was paid in the building of the Elaine to the accommodation for automobiles. Her freight deck is unusually spacious and she has an eleven-foot gap between decks, ensuring ample clearance for trucks and all types of motor vehicles, which she may be called upon to transport. She can carry 1,200 passengers.

The Elaine was built by John Brown & Company, Clydebank, last year, the launching taking place on October 26 at the company's yards. Capt. C. D. Neroutas, assistant manager of the B.C. Coast Steamship Service, went to the Old Country from here to attend the launching ceremony and remained there until shortly before the vessel left the builders for this coast.

GOOD TRIALS

On her trial trip in February, the Elaine acted splendidly and showed a good turn of speed, in every way coming up to specifications. She left the Old Country March 16 for Victoria, but was delayed a week by bad weather on the English Coast, and it was some time after this that she headed across the Atlantic. On the way to Victoria, she called at Las Palmas, in the Canary Islands; San Juan, Porto Rico; Panama Canal ports and San Pedro.

The Elaine is of 2,027.11 tons gross and has a displacement tonnage of 2,293 tons. Her registered tonnage is 724 tons.

The new ferry is a triple-screw steamer, powered with three rotary steam turbines with single reduction gears in each shaft. These engines develop 4,600 horsepower and are capable of driving her through the water at a regular speed of eighteen knots per hour. The engines are of the Brown-Curtis type.

CAPTAIN IS V.C.

Capt. Ronald N. Stuart, V.C., D.S.O., R.N.R., formerly staff captain on one of the big Canadian Pacific Empire liners, was on the bridge of the Princess Elaine for the voyage out from Great Britain. Capt. Stuart gained his V.C. during the war for distinguished work in connection with a "Q" boat. Melville Jack, of this city, acted as first officer on the outward trip, while the other officers aboard were: Second officer, O. J. Williams; third officer, T. Donaldson; chief engineer, William Woolcock; second engineer, D. Prentice; third engineer, C. McKay; fourth engineer, T. Burns; chief steward, G. W. Woollett; purser, C. W. Young. The Elaine carries a crew of fifty-three, excluding the captain.

WOULD BLACKLIST KYLSANT LINES

Purchasers of Australian Shipping Line Said to Be Unpopular

Canberra, Australia, April 25 (Vancouver Province Cable)—Prime Minister Bruce, in the House of Representatives, referred to threats by the maritime and transport unions to declare black the ships of the White Star Line and any others of the Kylesant group trading to Australia, as well as the Commonwealth Line when it is sold to Lord Kylesant.

Mr. Bruce said the Government would use whatever power it had to prevent the will of the people being thwarted. If it had not sufficient power, legislation would be introduced to deal with a position which would be a disgrace to Australia.

The lines on the Commonwealth Line, which has been sold for $9,500,000, were: 1926-27, 12,975,000; 1927-28, 12,795,000. Other tenders for the line were: Runciman, London, limited, $6,250,000; Sir James Connolly, agent-general for Western Australia on behalf of a syndicate, $7,450,000.

Can't Eat It.
He—Is there anything in life but love?
She—Nothing in the wide, wide world! Where shall we have supper?

Two Sailing Ships To Race to Alaska

San Francisco, April 25.—Another sailing ship race to the Alaska Packers' Association loomed here yesterday with the announcement that the officers and crews of the Star of Holland and Star of England were preparing to stage a contest of their own. The two vessels will likely get away for the North within a week. A race recently between the Star of Alaska and the Star of England, was won by the former.

Theodore Brent, president of the Redwood Line announced here yesterday that the line has entered into an agreement with the Illinois Central, for a semi-monthly steamship service from New Orleans to the Pacific Coast. This will give Middle West manufacturers through rates on a parity with tariffs via the Atlantic Coast and intercoastal steamship lines.

Robert F. Cullen, general passenger agent for the Los Angeles Steamship Company, with headquarters in Los Angeles, arrived here yesterday for a conference with Roy V. Crowder, passenger traffic manager of the line. Two offshore passenger liners, the

To-morrow's Horoscope

THURSDAY, APRIL 26, 1928

This is an uncertain day in which adverse aspects appear to dominate. Not a time to make any sort of a venture in romance or in business.

There is a sign of large promise for oil and oil interests, but it may not mean immediate good fortune for consumers, because it involves long delays.

Under this planetary government the mind should be keen and even psychic in its vision.

It is well to postpone large projects and there may be unavoidable reverses. This is not an auspicious day for dealing with large corporations. Many will be concerned in far-reaching expansion.

The seers explain that the future will offer opportunities to highly-trained men and women, but the unskilled will be more and more handicapped.

All occultists appear to agree that the world is reaching a supreme height in the development of physical achievements and that the realm of the spiritual soon will be entered for scientific investigation.

The rule is inimical to persons who hold high places, making them arrogant as well as uncertain of tenure. It is not a favorable day for seeking preferment from employers or public men.

Breach of promise suits may develop under this planetary government which is believed to encourage unions without benefit of clergy.

Newspapers will continue to prosper in the present year which appears to promise large amalgamations and many changes in ownership or management.

Persons whose birthdate it is should be careful in all their personal relations this year. Many enemies are indicated.

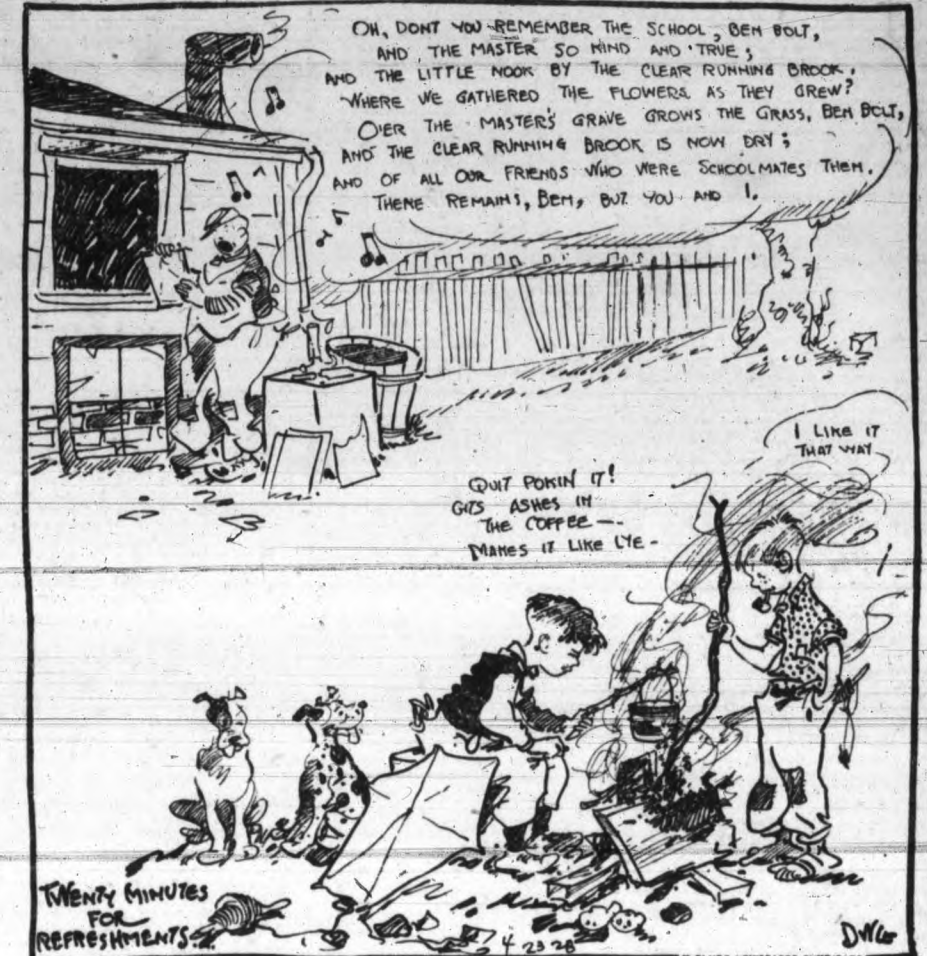

Children born on this day may be obstinate and self-willed, but intelligent and able to win success.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily in the Coal Hole

Copyright, 1928, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD R. GARDIS

"This is all nonsense!" growled the Puzzy Fox, looking at the four signs on which Uncle Wiggily had quickly written some puzzles instead of making "keep off the grass" words as he intended. "You can't stop me from nibbling your ears!" The Fox looked very hungry.

"Oh, can't I?" asked the rabbit gentleman, sort of reaching one paw in a paper bag on the ground near one of the signs, a picture of which was in the story last night.

"No, you can't," snarled the Fox. "I'm not going to do your silly old puzzle, either! I'm going to bite you!" With that he made a jump for the rabbit gentleman, but quickly Uncle Wiggily pulled his paw out of the bag. And in the paw was left some of the fine grass seed, like pepper. Like a flash, Uncle Wiggily threw the grass seed in the eyes of the Big Fox, as, once before, the wind had blown some into the eyes of Little Fox.

"Oh, wow! Oh, dear me! Oh, trolley cars!" howled Big Fox. "Now I can't see to do your puzzle!"

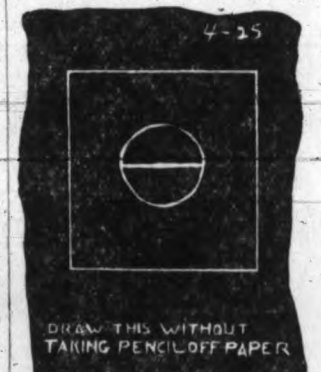

"No, and you can't see to nibble my ears, either!" chuckled the rabbit. So

School, and it was a funny noise and, right away, she squeaked and told me to run and find you to come and see what made the funny noise in the coal hole.

"I'll come at once," said Mr. Longears. "Who knows but this may be a new adventure for me!" he chuckled.

He was soon at the Hollow Stump School, where he found a frightened Lady Mouse Teacher, with some of the wondering animal children gathered around the hole where coal was put in for winter.

"Listen," whispered the Lady Mouse. Uncle Wiggily listened and heard a queer noise down in the coal hole.

Without stopping to think what might be there, Mr. Longears jumped right down in the black coal hole.

The noise was now louder. Uncle Wiggily saw a ragged piece of paper that was all black with coal dust. With a bit of white chalk which he had in his pocket, Uncle Wiggily quickly drew on the black paper a white puzzle like the one you see here. It was a circle inside of a square.

"Now then!" cried the brave rabbit gentleman in the coal hole, "whoever you are in here you must do this puzzle of drawing a circle inside of a square without taking your pencil off the paper. If you don't I'll call the Police Dog!"

There was another noise in the coal hole, and who made it and how the puzzle is done you shall learn to-morrow night when the story will be about Uncle Wiggily in the ice cave—that is if the parlor rug isn't too stuck up to go out in the kitchen and visit the gas stove when it is boiling the potatoes.

"Oh! Oh! Unkie Wig!" gasped the little bunny.

while the Fox staggered away to let the wind blow the grass seeds out of his eyes, Uncle Wiggily turned the signs around and on the back of each the answers were written. On one was the letter B and a bee is an insect, isn't it? On another sign was the letter J, and a Blue Jay is a bird, as everyone knows. The third sign had on it the letter T.

"And tea is good to drink," chuckled Uncle Wiggily. While on the last sign was the letter C and the bunny said, "The Sea, or Ocean is the deepest water, I know. But the Fox couldn't guess the puzzle, though I'm sure many of the children who read about me guessed it."

Then Uncle Wiggily put up "Please keep off the grass" signs on his new fuzzy, green lawn and he was ready for another new adventure. He did not have long to wait. As the old rabbit gentleman was twinkling his pink nose, all of a sudden Baby Bunty came hopping along the front path, all excited and out of breath from hurrying so.

"Oh! Oh! Un-kie Wig!" gasped the little orphan bunny. "Oh! Oh!"

"What's the matter, my dear?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Why are you at home from school this time of day? Is it recess?"

"Oh, no!" panted Bunty. "The Lady Mouse Teacher sent me out!"

"Sent you out? Not because you were bad, I hope, Bunty?"

"Oh, no, I wasn't bad, Unkie Wig! But the Lady Mouse heard a noise in the coal hole at the Hollow Stump

They will furnish an instrumental trio in the scene, "A Overture of Yesterday," in which Mrs. Alfred Dowell will sing "The Second Minute," by Beethoven.

Another feature on the programme will be the interpretative ballet which the following girls will present: Misses Lorna Cutler, Frances Amplett, Barbara Hulke, Gwen Carter, Phyllis Sheppard, Alice Bowen, Kathleen Ross, Grace Hodges, Dolly Spencer, Winnie Shaw, Edna Wallace, Judy Meighen, Helen Crawford and Helen Marling. The leading roles will be taken by Miss Doreen Wilson and Miss Madge McCowan.

In sharp contrast to these two offerings will be the presentation of the "Sentimental Show," one of the ensemble numbers which promises to prove a distinct "hit." The following will interpret in the scene: Misses Helen Stewart, Faith Monk, Jean Booth, Bee Raymond, Phyllis Byng, Bridget, Kitty Cullen, and Messrs. Jack Booth, Jack Child, Logan Pather, Joe Ross, Ray Ditchburn and Ron Smith.

Many inquiries concerning "Let's Go" have been received from the public, and a lot of out-of-town people will witness the performances next week.

PORT ALBERNI LIBERALS READY

Port Alberni, April 25.—The Liberals of Port Alberni held a reorganization meeting Monday night at 7.15 o'clock. Previous to the public meeting, addressed by Hon. A. M. Manson, David Ramsay, president of the Saanich Liberal Association, was called to open the meeting. The time being limited, Mr. Ramsay spoke very briefly, congratulating the meeting on its discussion and also commenting on the large attendance, which showed that Port Alberni was in line with other parts of the British Columbia in showing greatly increased interest in public affairs.

Office bearers were elected as follows: Honorary presidents, Rt. Hon. W. A. Mackenzie King, Hon. J. D. Maclean; president, L. A. H. J. Maclean; vice-president, F. G. Weaver; secretary, H. Webb; treasurer, Dr. H. Warnock; executive committee, A. T. Kneen, J. M. Paul, E. N. Whyte, W. T. Picketts, A. McNeil, J. M. Gregor.

It was decided to hold a meeting in one week to take up important business following organization.

Hon. A. M. Manson, who was present, was asked to say a few words. He congratulated the new association, outlined the outstanding differences between Liberals and Conservatives, and stressed the need of co-operation and friendly discussion, for successful carrying on of the work of the Liberal Party.

TELLS OF BEAUTY OF UPPER ISLAND

Mystery, Romance and Rare Beauty of Forbidden Plateau Described

P. Wood, chairman of the Comox Mountaineering Club, prepared the way for the ten-day camp of the Victoria branch of the Alpine Club of Canada at Forbidden Plateau, next August, when he lectured upon the district into which the members will penetrate, and thrilled the audience of climbers gathered at the home of Miss Sara Spencer, Moss Street, last night.

Miss Spencer, the hostess, was profusely thanked by the gathering of guests who sang lustily, "For She Jolly Good Fellow" before they took their departure.

Mr. Wood described a trip which he and companions took last Summer. Leaving Comox, they went into the Forbidden Plateau country via Mount Becher. The Mount Becher country was dotted with numberless lakes, the lecturer said. It was most picturesque and afforded the traveler a wide view of surrounding country and a wonderful panorama of the mainland mountains and farther western peaks.

A wonderful series of photographs were projected upon a screen showing the marvels of the Forbidden Plateau country proper, and the majesty of Mount Albert Edward, lofty sentinel of the place.

A. O. Wheeler, president of the Alpine Club, gave the speaker the members' thanks and his own word of praise.

AT THE THEATRES

MANY STARS TAKE PARTS IN PICTURE AT THE CAPITOL

Norma Shearer's role in her new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer screen production, "The Latest From Paris," which is now being shown at the Capitol Theatre, makes her a star of stars. At least three members of her cast are now stars or have been. George Sidney was starred on Broadway in "Welcome Stranger," and has been starred in many film productions; Bert Roach was starred by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in "Excuse Me"; Ralph Forbes was starred on the English stage and Tenen Holtz was starred at the Yiddish theatre in New York City.

FOREST FIRE AND BLIZZARD FEATURE COLUMBIA PICTURE

During the production of "Resurrection," the feature film at the Columbia Theatre, a forest fire in Southern California and the following month a blizzard in Northern California, Director Edwin Carewe and his stars, Rod La Rocque and Dolores del Rio, principals in "Resurrection." But the extras who were paid in any case did not mind drawing salaries while idle.

In "Resurrection," the featured film at the Columbia Theatre, Rod La Rocque wears seventeen different uniforms.

MOVIE COWBOY IS SEEN IN PICTURE NOW AT VARIETY

Paul Hurst, former movie cowboy, director and writer, played in First National's "The Valley of the Giants," now at the Variety Theatre, with Milton Sills. He went on location with the company to Northern California, among the tall Redwoods.

KEN MAYNARD AND WONDER HORSE SEEN IN PLAYHOUSE FILM

"Tarzan," the wonder horse partner to Ken Maynard in the latter's latest Western, "The Wagon Show," which is now playing at the Playhouse Theatre, has qualified for a real horse. Although "Tarzan" was not with Maynard when Ken was connected with the big tops, he has had enough experience in "The Wagon Show," a circus picture with a Western background, to qualify him, according to Maynard.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS SHOWING IN "GAUCHO" AT DOMINION THEATRE

Douglas Fairbanks, noted actor and picture artist, and his latest production, "The Gaucho," indicates the screen as the most powerful agent of the present time in molding common sentiments among diverse speaking peoples. His views offer an interesting field of psychological conjecture.

It is this latter opinion that has governed Douglas Fairbanks in his choice of film stories. Universal appeal, the imaginative, rich romance have been his slogans, from which he has not departed in his latest production, with Douglas as "The Gaucho," in a humanitarian sense, the actor prefers to regard these as incidental to the main objective—a few hours of unfettered bliss—the unclinging of tired minds—a good story well told.

"The Gaucho" is now playing at the Dominion Theatre.

Ss. Princess Kathleen takes an excursion to Seattle, Saturday, May 12, leaving at 9 a.m.

ACTOR-SINGER COMING HERE

Heughan to Appear at Royal Victoria April 30 and May 1

It is extremely doubtful if there is in the world of music at the present day a more interesting and compelling artist than Heughan, the internationally famous actor-singer, who is to appear and give two of his unique recitals in the Royal Victoria Theatre on Monday, April 30, and Tuesday, May 1.

The public of Victoria have already had opportunities of seeing and hearing Heughan, who made his Canadian debut in Victoria in 1925. On this occasion he is en route for Australia, New Zealand and the Orient, where he is booked for extensive tours.

He comes direct from successes in Europe, where he has been appearing during the last year, and where his art has met with the acclaim that has everywhere been accorded him.

He is unlike the usual recital artist, inasmuch as he injects a strong element of the dramatic into many of his numbers. He is actor, singer and story-teller all in one. Of him The Daily Sketch, of London, wrote:

"Heughan held his audience by the magic of his personality and his magnificent voice. He was as good as an opera."

But his success has not been confined to the British Empire. Writing of his appearance in Detroit the music critic of The Times said:

"Detroit music-lovers listened to the superb voice of Heughan, marveling at the white at his mimetic and dramatic powers. For Heughan is rightly termed one of the world's few geniuses of song. He possesses that rare and remarkable gift of illusion and mastery of song delivery that adds perfection to an otherwise perfect voice."

He will be assisted by Maud Bell, the distinguished English cellist, and Gladys Sayer, the well-known pianist and accompanist.
